NEW ATTACKS ON BUSINESS SEEN

INVITES DAVEY AND WHITE TO TALK TO JURY

Duffy Asks Governor, Predecessor to Testify In Parole Situation Inquiry.

WANTS THEM NEXT WEEK

Panel Visits Reformatory, Will Propose Changes In Conditions.

With the special parole investigation grand jury still "on tour," visiting Ohio penal institutions, Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy today invited Governor Martin L. Davey and former Governor George White to testify before the panel.

Duffy expressed the hope that both, would appear next week when the jury will resume its formal investigation into the parole system.

Visits Reformatory.

The panel was in Mansfield yesterday afternoon, inspecting the Mansfield Reformatory. Today it was to visit the Marysville Reformatory for women and tomorrow will visit the London Prison farm.

Dispatches from Columbus said that both Davey and White had expressed a willingness to testify before the grand jury.

Gov. Davey is to be asked about a pardon he granted recently to Kenyon V. Painter, former Cleveland banker. White is to be questioned about the parole of Roy "Happy" Marino, Youngstown gangster who was slain last August and who once was convicted of bank robbery.

A subpoena has been issued for Painter, who was pardoned after illness made necessary his removal from Ohio penitentiary to a hospital.

Among others expected to be summoned before the grand jury [illegible] state fire marshal.

Attorney General Duffy said he would not grant Gov. Davey's request that his testimony before the grand jury be made public.

Duffy, in letters to Davey and White, said:

"In order that a thorough and complete investigation may be made and 'leads' impartially checked, I wish to extend to you an invitation to appear before the Franklin county grand jury which will convene in Columbus next week, on Jan. 3.

"You may set the time of your appearances, but we would like to have you appear next week."

Spend Three Hours Here.

Fifteen members of the jury with a bailiff made a three-hour tour of the reformatory here yesterday under the guidance of Supt. Arthur L. Glattke, in order

3 Drowned When Plane Plunges Into Lake Erie

TOLEDO — (AP) — Three persons were drowned today when a plane plunged into Lake Erie a half mile off Put-In-Bay. The pilot was saved.

The dead: Nancy Howard, 42; Delbert Watkins, 30, and Albert Anderson, 45, all of North Bass island. Rescued: William Somogy, 30, pilot.

The plane fell into the open water as the pilot, blinded by a heavy fog, tried to land on the ice.

Somogy clung to the tail of the plane and was saved by Emil Weiler and Arnold Burggraf, who went to the scene in a boat.

The plane was en route from North Bass island to Put-In-Bay where the passengers intended to transfer to a larger plane for a trip to the mainland. The air was clear as the plane headed into the sky. But over Put-In-Bay, fog obscured the island.

Somogy said he tried to save the woman's life by holding her with one hand, but the cold water finally compelled him to loosen his grip and she sank.

NO, SAYS JOCK

Pitt Coach Flatly Denies Rumor He'll Quit Panther Post.

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — An abrupt "absolutely false" was "Jock" Sutherland's comment today on reports he would resign his long-held post as coach of the University of Pittsburgh's football teams.

Sutherland, here for a national coaches' meeting, was reached by newsmen early today for the first time since publication of the resignation report in Pittsburgh yesterday. He made a flat denial.

DENY WHEAT OPTIONS

LONDON — (AP) — The defense ministry and the board of trade today denied published reports they had negotiated an option for Great Britain on the entire Canadian wheat crop to ensure Britain's food supply in time of war.

9 Veterans Retire From O.S.R. Staff

Oldest Guard 84, Youngest 70—Group Has Served Total of 233 Years.

Nine officers of the Mansfield reformatory who have topped the allotted three score and ten years and who have served a total of 233 years at the institution, laid aside their uniforms and Sam Browne belts today and retired. The oldest of the retiring guards is 84, the youngest 70.

They took advantage of the new state retirement act in submitting their resignations to Supt. Arthur L. Glattke. The act, which becomes effective Jan. 1, permits state employes over the age of 70, who have served five or more years, to retire with pension.

Tonight at the regular quarterly meeting of officers of the institution, they will be given recognition and will be honored with the presentation of silver tokens commemorating their years of service at the institution.

Hold 'Farewell' Meeting.

Those guards to be honored at the "farewell" meeting are J. L. Reilly, 84; J. A. Wierman, 71; B. F. Ernst, 71; R. H. Cramer, 70; A. W. Shaw, 81; H. C. Black, 72; W. S. Henry, 70; H M. Ford, 71, and Edgar Aplin, 80.

The tokens are silver pocket pieces bearing the seal of the state of Ohio on one side and the name of the employe; his years of service, and the date of presentation on the other. The tokens will be presented by fellow officers, who made the awards possible through their subscription to a special fund.

During their terms of service, Reilly, oldest guard in the employ of the institution, was engineer at the power house; Wierman and Henry were mail censors, and Ernst was assistant superintendent at the fruit farm. Cramer was the guard in charge of the [illegible] the hog farm. Black was a tower guard, and Ford and Aplin were guards in the tailor and the shops, respectively.

"From an institutional viewpoint these retiring officers have set a high mark for those remaining to attain," Supt. Glattke said.

"In anticipation of these retirements, replacemens have already been added to the staff and have served their customary 90-day probationary period. The new men have passed the civil service examinations."

Shaw is the oldest of the retiring employes in the point of service by seven years. He came to the reformatory two years after the institution was dedicated in 1896. He served 39 years. Henry has served 32 years, Wierman 31, Aplin 30 years, Reilly 22, Ernst 24. Cramer 23, Black 18 and Ford 14.

TWO BOYS HELD

Police Quiz Brothers, Oldest 11, In Store Burglary.

Two east side brothers, the oldest of whom is 11, were held in the Salvation Army detention home today in connection with the burglary of the Jim Brown store, 70 North Foster street, Monday night in which 11 watches were stolen.

The boys, who have been on probation to their parents since last May for a similar offense, were arrested yesterday by detectives after fingerprints found at the scene of the burglary were identified by police as those of the younger child.

Police were questioning the pair today in an effort to link them with recent petty breaking and enterings of numerous Mansfield business establishments. They said however that no loot had been recovered and that the boys denied they had broken into the Brown store.

TOWN MENACED

Piqua Warehouse Blaze Causes $80,000 Damage.

PIQUA—(AP)—A large tobacco warehouse at Bradford, 10 miles west of here, was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated today at $80,000 by Frank Cotterel, the manager. The blaze last night for a time threatened the entire business district there.

APPROVES BONDS

Commission Authorizes Rail Line To Issue $5,000,000.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized the Erie Railroad company today to issue $5,000,000 of refunding and improvement mortgage six per cent bonds.

The bonds will be placed in the company's treasury in partial reimbursement for capital expenditures already made.

CHINESE FLEE, DYNAMITE CITY

Blast Telegraph, Cable, Radio Facilities as Japs Push Toward Tsingtao.

SHANGHAI—(AP)—Chinese, apparently preparing to abandon the threatened Shantung port of Tsingtao, tonight began blowing up all telegraph, cable and radio terminals.

This is the policy the Chinese military has followed in other cities when Japanese occupation seemed imminent.

The explosions, which shook the entire city, cut off all communications and resulted in the greatest tension among the populace, including 159 Americans who had not yet evacuated.

Meanwhile, Japan's conquering army claimed "in principle" today the right to extend provisions of its military law into Shanghai's international settlement and the French concession, where thousands of Americans and other foreigners make their homes.

A Japanese army spokesman announced the claim, under which troops could enter foreign areas still outside Japanese control and arrest and try "all persons" suspected of crimes against Nippon's armed forces.

Japanese forces would proceed cautiously in any cases where Americans and other foreigners holding treaty rights to be tried by courts of their own nations were suspected, the spokesman said.

He stated that the basis of the Japanese claim was "de facto" military occupation and specified

2 EX-INMATES PLAN APPEALS

Seek Reversal of Death Verdict In Kidnaping Case.

Orville Adkins and James Travis, paroled reformatory inmates, sentenced to die for the kidnaping of the late Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old Huntington, W. Va., retired minister, today mapped plans to appeal their convictions.

Transcript of the evidence in the case was requested today by defense attorneys, advices from Huntington said.

BATTLES ICE

Lake Erie Steamer Breaks Through, Heads For Island.

SANDUSKY — (U.P.) — The oil burning steamer Tourist in charge of Capt. John Glibert, started for Kelley's Island today with a load of assorted freight after successfully breaking the ice in Sandusky Bay and taking a load of much needed gasoline to the island.

Navigation to the islands in Lake Erie was closed by a hard freeze about two weeks ago and Christmas supplies were taken by airplane.

State Highway Employe Named City Street Chief By Hunter

Mayor-elect Claude M. Hunter today announced the appointment of a state employe as superintendent of streets. It was the thirteenth appointment made by Hunter who takes office Saturday.

Donnell D. Oreweiler, foreman in the maintenance division of the state highway department, was named to the street post. He will succeed Charles Hebel who was appointed by Mayor Earl A. McFarland early in 1936, to fill the term of K. O. Darling. The latter resigned to go into the contracting business.

Oreweiler has been in the employe of the state for the past 14 years. He is a native of Mansfield and lives with his wife and two sons at 563 South Main street. He is 32 years old.

While Hunter said today he is not quite ready to announce his selections of superintendent of the garbage disposal plant and the sewage disposal plant, there is a great deal of speculation over these two posts, the only major ones yet to be filled.

Paul Sotherland holds the sewage job and Lester Linham heads the garbage disposal plant. Some observers have expressed the opinion that Hunter may wait until March 8 when the present city ordinance that creates the positions and fixes the salaries at both plants expires.

The ordinance creating the positions was passed by council March 8 and expires in one year.

3 IN DEATH PACT

Jap Soldiers Hold Reunion In California; End Lives.

STOCKTON, Calif.—(AP)—Police disclosed today that three former Japanese soldiers held a reunion here to end their lives. The bodies of Tamakishi Shino, 50, in whose house the reunion was held Monday night; Ida Tomoto, 35, and Ichiro Morata, 53, were found in a carbon-monoxide filled room, windows of which were tightly closed.

PITY THE POOR CATS

LOS ANGELES—(U.P.)—Her husband buried cats alive in her presence, Mrs. Alex Stearns charged today in a cross-complaint to his divorce suit. She said Stearns, a rancher, did this to annoy her.

BATES MAKES 4 POLICE SHIFTS

Returns Krupp to Detective Duty, Increasing Number of Plainclothesmen to 3.

Four shifts in the personnel of the police department, including the addition of a third detective, was announced today by Police Chief Meade K. Bates. The changes become effective tomorrow.

Oscar Krupp, former detective, who has served as first shift desk sergeant at the police station for the last 18 months, will return to plainclothes duty. He will serve with Lee J. Remy and Harry Copper, present detectives.

Claude Watts, deskman on the second shift, will succeed Krupp.

Patrolman H. B. Palmer, who recently was shifted from the traffic bureau following the creation of the post of stenographer-clerk by city council, goes back into uniform on the third shift under Capt. Jesse Schwab. Palmer, through seniority is entitled to the second shift from 3 p. m. to 11 p. m., but chose the third, Bates said.

The vacant post of second shift desk man and radio operator will be filled later in the day by Capt. John Miller, in charge of the shift, the chief added.

Bates explained that the transfer of Krupp back to the detective bureau was made possible through the addition of Miss Helen Baughman to the department to take care of the collection of traffic tickets and records and files, the job formerly held by Palmer.

"With Palmer available for outside duty, it is the same as adding an additional man to the force," he said. "And we needed another man in the detecttive bureau because of the increased amount of work in the past few months."

RAINS INCREASE FLOOD DANGERS

Already Flooded Pacific Northwest Has Cause for New Alarm.

SEATTLE —(AP)— More rain was forecast today for the Pacific northwest, already flooded by a three-day storm which caused three train wrecks and disrupted travel and communication.

Portland's rainfall threatened a 50-year record, 53.33 inches having fallen this year compared to 54.17 inches in 1887. More than six inches fell in 24 hours this week.

A report from Vernonia, Ore., said 100 families were marooned when the Upper Nehalem river left its banks.

DEATHS MOUNT

Safety Council Sees 40,000 Or All-Time High For '37.

CHICAGO—(AP)—The National Safety council predicted today traffic deaths in the nation during 1937 would approximate 40,000, an all-time high.

Ever mounting, the traffic toll was 37,800 in 1936, and 37,000 in 1935, the council said. During the first 11 months of 1937 traffic deaths numbered 35,610, a six per cent increase.

ROOSEVELT'S BACKERS MAP BLAST AT FOES

Ickes' Radio Talk to Be on 'Government and Business' Thursday Night.

ENDORSES BORAH BILL

President Backs Principles of Corporation Licensing, Washington Hears.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three developments gave new support today to the belief expressed by many officials that the Roosevelt administration would make an active campaign against its business critics:

1. Reports reached congressmen from high administration sources that the president at a recent cabinet meeting endorsed the principle of the Borah-O'Mahoney bill to license interstate corporations.

2. Senator Norris (Ind., Neb.), a Roosevelt backer, suggested the senate renew its investigation of lobbying in an effort to offset what he termed "organized propaganda" against the president's legislative proposals.

3. Secretary Ickes announced he would deliver a radio speech at 9 p. m. tomorrow on "It Is Happening Here." Associates predicted he would discuss relations between government and business. (Over NBC network.)

Aids Monopoly Attack.

The reports concerning Mr. Roosevelt's views on the corporation licensing bill encouraged its friends to believe it might become the chief vehicle for the administration's proposed attack on the monopoly problem.

In his last "fireside chat" Mr. Roosevelt declared there was need for tightening the anti-trust laws. [illegible] the Borah-O'Mahoney bill did not "go far enough." It provides that an enlarged federal trade commission would charter corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce licenses could be denied to firms violating the anti-trust laws.

Denunciation of monopolies Sunday by Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson has led to speculation that the president would touch on the subject in his message to congress next Monday. Mr. Roosevelt said he probably would deliver the message in person.

Study Compromise.

A compromise with President Roosevelt on his demand for reduced highway aid was being considered by legislators favoring continued road expenditures. They suggested cancelling some funds already appropriated but not yet spent by the states.

Another administration economy proposal—a $124,000,000 reduction for the Civilian Conservation Corps—has encountered opposition among legislators.

Robert Fechner, CCC director, said the proposed appropriation of $226,000,000 for the next fiscal year would reduce the present enrollment of 300,000 men to about 225,000.

FLOOD DISTRICT BENEFITS FIXED

County Land Owners Assessed $9,614 by Muskingum Conservancy Board.

Richland county property holders in the Muskingum Conservancy district will be required to pay $9,614 in land benefit assessments according to a schedule which had been placed in effect today by the conservancy board.

The Richland county assessments represent only a small part of the more than $8,000,000 to be collected in the entire district. Public utilities will pay virtually the entire amount in the county, with barely a half dozen farmers in Monroe and Bloominggrove townships affected by the board's ruling.

Approximately a dozen holders of private property and public utilities in the county will be affected by the order, with the Richland county commissioners assessed $2,500 for benefits to public property in the conservancy area.

Set up as 50 per cent of the appraised benefits to land in the flood control district, the assessments may be paid in cash before Jan. 21 to the conservancy district treasurer at New Phila-

Chief Lifts Lid On Liquor Sales for New Year Eve

Mansfielders who celebrate the arrival of the New Year with "the cup that cheers" will be allowed to imbibe at night clubs and bars all night long, if they so desire—providing they maintain a "reasonable degree of propriety."

That was the word from Police Chief Meade K. Bates today following the action of the state liquor control board in lifting state regulations covering the sale of liquor for that night. Bates said that the city ordinance would be suspended on New Year eve and that no closing hour would be enforced.

"As long as the state board has agreed to lift the curfew for the one night, there seems to be no reason why the city shouldn't," Bates added, "just as long as the proprietors maintain a reasonable degree of propriety."

This means that establishments selling liquor may remain open from 6 a. m. Dec. 31 until midnight, Jan. 1, when the Sunday closing regulation takes effect.

A city ordinance sets the curfew for the sale of liquor by the glass at 1 a. m. Night club permit holders, however, are allowed to remain open until 2:30 a. m. under the state liquor board regulations.

BRIDES-ELECT GIVEN SHOWERS LAST NIGHT

Miss Frances Thull Honored by Lawyers' Secretaries At Supper—Friends Entertain at Bridge For Miss Boyd.

WITH the wedding dates of Miss Frances Thull and Miss Betty Boyd only a few days away, showers honoring the two brides-to-be have been in center stage this week. Miss Thull was entertained last night by members of the Lawyers Secretaries association at a buffet supper at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

During the evening a bride's book was made for Miss Thull and she was presented with an electrical gift by the group. Another party has been planned for tonight, and Mrs. Louise Reese will entertain with a bridge party tomorrow night.

Miss Thull, 19 Hedges street, will become the bride of Edward B. Egan, Cleveland, New Year's day at the parish house of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Mrs. Jack McKnight, Mrs. Hedges Princehorn and Miss Miriam Frietchen entertained last night at the McKnight home, 508½ South Main street, with a bridge party for Miss Boyd. Four tables were in play with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Paul Fair, Shelby, and Miss Jane Sowash.

The table was decorated with candles and sprays of bouvardia and baby's breath intertwined around the holders. A large heart in the center of the table with ribbons leading to smaller hearts directed the bride-elect to a shower of crystal gifts. The hostesses also presented the bride with a crystal gift.

In addition to Mrs. Fair, Miss Neda Wilson, South Haen, Mich., was an out-of-town guest. Another affair has been scheduled for Thursday evening. Mrs. Charles J. Pittenger, 146 Poplar street, will be the hostess.

Miss Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Boyd, 136 Poplar street, will become the bride of Jack Anthony Jan. 2 at the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Anthony is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Anthony, Wooster road.

Early December Nuptials Announced Here Today

Announcement was received this morning of the marriage of Miss Miriam Sheets, daughter of Harvey Sheets, 1124 Union avenue, Ashland, to Joseph G. Wagenhals, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagenhals, sr., Lincoln Heights. The ceremony was performed Dec. 11 in the Methodist Episcopal church at Greenup, Ky., with Rev. T. S. Lacks officiating.

Mr. Wagenhals is a graduate of Madison high school and is employed at the Westinghouse Manufacturing company. Mrs. Wagenhals is an employe of the A. L. Garber company. The couple is living at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

BUSINESS, PROGRAMS KEEP TWO CLUBS BUSY

Tourist Members Arrange for Department of Justice Speaker—Daughters of Isabella Play Bridge, Five Hundred.

TWO of the leading Mansfield organizations met yesterday for regular sessions. Members of the Tourist club heard a program on the calendar and clocks when Mrs. C. V. Gates was hostess. A social meeting was held by members of the Joan of Arc circle, Daughters of Isabella, when they met last night at their club rooms in the Bird building.

Mrs. Ernest Ihrig spoke on the "Romance of the Calendar" followed by Mrs. William Jesson, who discussed "Clocks" at the Tourist meeting.

Announcement was made that the next meeting will be a guest luncheon at the Women's Club. Mrs. S. D. Hoover and Mrs. W. L. Parkinson will be hostesses. The program, which was revealed, will present W. S. Devereaux of the department of justice and an associate of J. Edgar Hoover's. Following the luncheon an open meeting will be conducted at the First Congregational church at 2:30 p. m. The meeting will be Jan. 11. Members of other clubs and the general public will be welcomed at the afternoon session, according to Mrs. W. P. Close, secretary.

Six tables of bridge and two of five hundred were at play last night in the Bird building club rooms when members of the Daughters of Isabella held a social meeting with Mrs. J. E. Marshall in charge. Miss Bess Murphy won the door prize and bridge winners were Mrs. Leslie Cara and Miss Marie Hecht. High scores in five hundred were held by Mrs. Joseph Menrath and Mrs. Daniel Nagle.

There will be a special meeting of the organization this coming Monday evening. Jan. 9 there will be an initiation and a buffet supper at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, and the next regular meeting will be Jan. 11.

Miss Klohs Entertains Amigos Club Members

Miss Ruth Klohs was hostess last night at a covered-dish dinner at her home, 136 Parkwood boulevard, given for members of the Amigos club. The table was decorated with a Christmas motif.

Bingo was played following the regular business meeting. Prizes were awarded to Miss Lena Mae Teeters and Miss Kitty Jane Birch. Miss Florence Beer, Richland avenue, will be hostess to the club, Jan. 11.

Dance Pupils Perform At Children's Home

Pupils of the Betty Jane Ackerman dance studio presented a program of songs and dances before the children of the Children's home last night. Miss Dorothy Meister was the accompanist and Tom Fink was master of ceremonies.

Those children participating were Barbara Oberlander, Lynn Ross, Eileen, Rita, and Joan Daley, Patricia Bolan, Wanda Blair, Rom Farst, Jean Woodard, and Laura Ferree.

Informality, Gaiety Crown Social Season In Washington

By J. CLAUDE ALLEN
(Central Press Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—The social season of 1937-'38 in the national capital is swinging into its full phase, with every indication of being the gayest and giddiest since the nation found itself on the depression toboggan in 1930.

Those cynical old wise fellows whose business it is to observe and describe the national procession, social and political, as it goes past, are remarking on the striking quality of contrast between the current social season and the one just four years ago, the first of the Roosevelt administration.

Such Informality!

It was a wild and woolly season. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt shocked Washington by appearing at a diplomatic reception in a trainless gown. Then the first lady proceeded to hold informal luncheons at which she went into the kitchen and scrambled eggs in a chafing dish.

Rexford Guy Tugwell, handsome "brain truster," became the social lion of the capital. He, as well as other "bright young men" in the Roosevelt entourage, became the most sought-after guests in Washington.

The social arbiters of the Republican era—1920 to 1932—suddenly found themselves neglected. Their social affairs were ill-attended, if at all. Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. Joseph Leiter, Mrs. William E. Borah, and a host of the other brilliant stars of the social firmament in Washington, faded from view.

To a Showdown.

At first there was a terrific battle as the old order refused to give way to the new. The historic showdown took place in the winter of 1933-'34.

The older and haughtier social leaders at first refused to give ground. They were, of course, forced to withdraw from official society. They believed, however, that they successfully could maintain their own smart svelte, and conservatively lavish affairs at a far higher plane than could be maintained by the newcomers.

They tried competing with the gay affairs given by the New Dealers and newly "arrived" senate wives. The fireworks of competition between the affairs of the two factions lighted up the social darkness of the entire year of 1934.

Today's Parties.

The Democrats have learned social manners. Many of them have acquired all the social airs of their predecessors. The "brain trusters" no longer are the social lions they were in 1934. A more social conscious group has taken their places. The parties, in many respects, cannot be distinguished from those of "the old days."

The vigorous and informal presence of Mrs. Roosevelt as social queen of the capital has seen to that. Affairs are not quite as stuffy as formerly. The Roosevelts always remain simple.

Debuts of the present, however, are quite as magnificent, and quite as frequent. The debut last season of Mary Senate Howes, daughter of the first assistant postmaster general outshone for sheer splendor, any social event of recent years.

Some of the old order have been taken back into good graces. Such a one is Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, owner of the famous Hope diamond. Widow of a Republican newspaper publisher, she now is writing a New-Dealish newspaper column, entertains lavishly, and generally disports herself as a socially conscious socialite. Mrs. William E. Borah is another social queen of the old days whose affairs today are well attended. Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington Times and Herald, always has been a recognized society leader. She is the one who obtains columns from social lights and interviews from the difficult-to-interview, such as John L. Lewis.

Others Refuse to Bend.

Some of the old school have refused to bend, and the result has been a faintly but frequently recurring clash with the powers that reign. Such a one is Mrs. Joseph Leiter, widow of the famous grain market speculator.

Mrs. Leiter recently announced herself as sponsor for a series of dances. One of the dates selected clashed with the date of a White House affair. Mrs. Leiter refused to alter the date of her dance. The White House also stood pat. The result was a deadlock, but most reliable reports said that attendance at the White House reception seemed unaffected by the competition of Mrs. Leiter's dance.

Fensch Holds Record

Westinghouse Bowler's 795 Highest Score Ever Shot In League Match Here.

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor.

WALTER FENSCH, not Sonny Meder and Art Hilborn, holds the individual league bowling record in the city. The Westinghouse orchestra drummer rung up a 795 from games of 268, 269 and 258 in the plant league last year. The recent discovery of this total erases the 781's recorded by Meder and Hilborn from the record boards . . . Kenny Houston has not retired from basketball. Down in Chillicothe, where Kenny is managing a loan firm, he is player-manager of the semi-pro team . . . A number of trades will be consummated by the major league clubs after the first of the year. Watch for Cleveland to figure in at least one. And Earl Averill will probably be a party in the deal . . . Clair Bee, who once served as assistant to Coach Russ Murphy at Mansfield high, brings his Long Island university courtiers to Ohio soil in February to play Chuck Chuckovits (pronounced choo-cove-its) and the crack Toledo U. quintet . . . Wonder how many games a basketball team with Hank Luisetti, Nick Frascella and Chuckovits could win? . . . Mansfielders will get an opportunity to see the heralded Luisetti in action at the Public Hall in Cleveland Jan. 1 . . . Lloyd Pine's still leading a busy life. He'll meet Jack Sharkey in the top bout on a fistic card in the Cleveland Arena Monday . . . Ed Shelby of Shelby will also appear on the card . . . What ever become of "Honeyboy" Jones? His whereabouts since his defeat of Vince Dundee has been a secret . . .

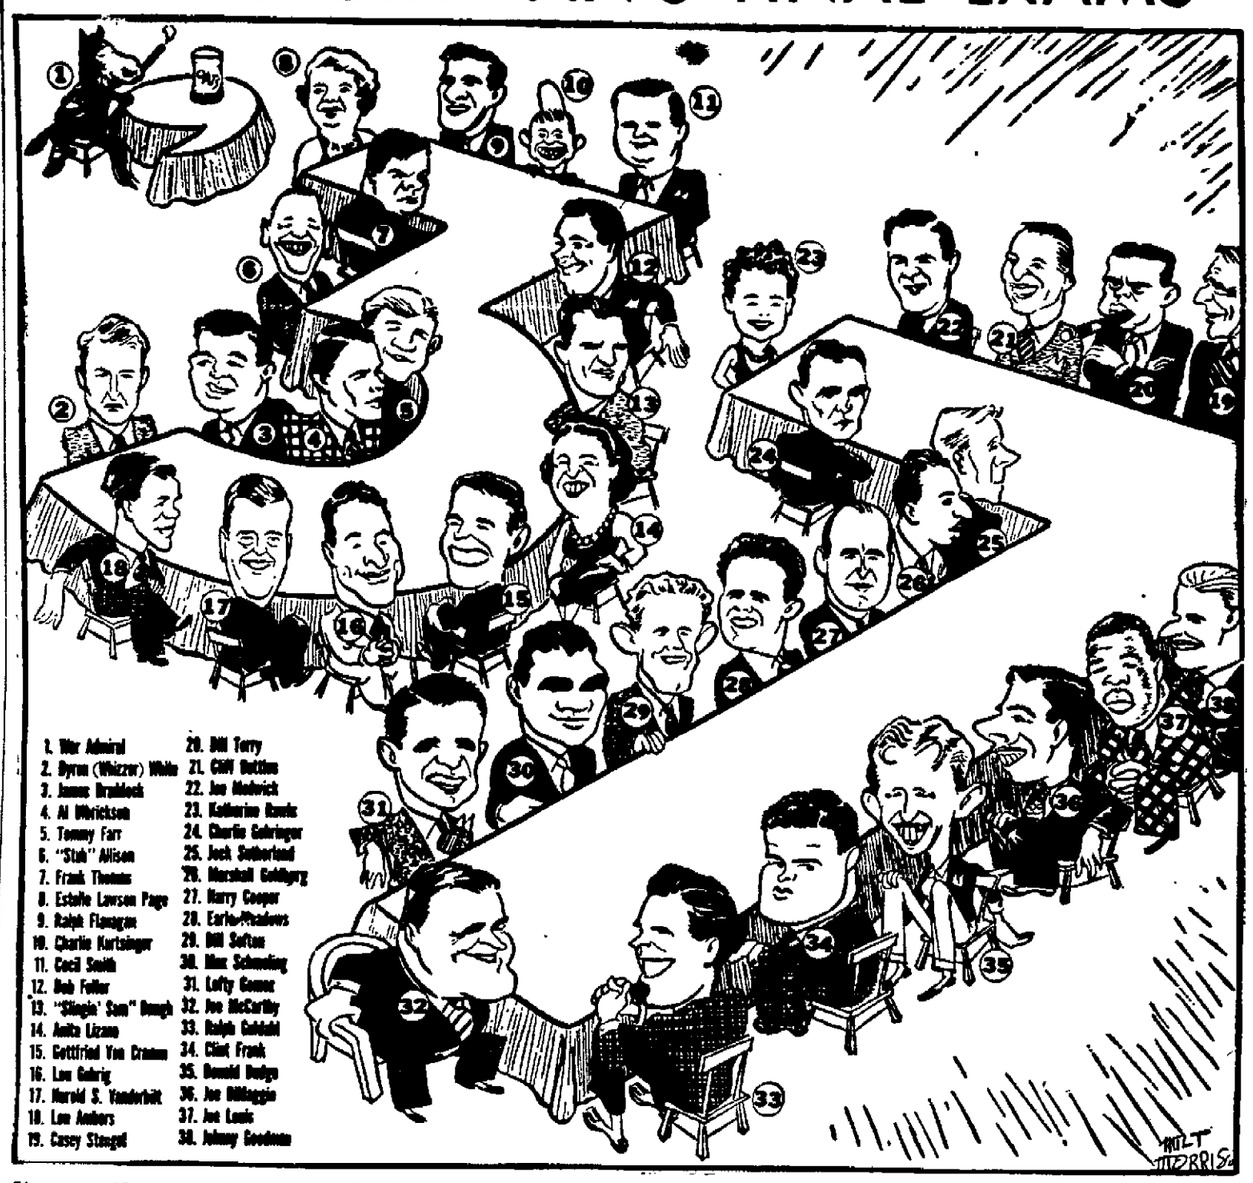
THE SPORT FAN'S FINAL EXAMS



If you can identify the 38 sports figures in this cartoon without looking at the list of names, you are pretty good.

The test is this. Can you tell why each holder of a place at the banquet table received sport-page headlines in 1937?

If you answer correctly for 35 or more, you have made "A" on the exam. Your knowledge of 1937 sports is "excellent."

If you get 30 right you are pretty good; 25 correct is fair. Below 25 is bad. How bad depends on how far below 25.

Your answers should have been something like these.—

1. The horse of the year, unbeaten, he was winner of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont.
2. He is Colorado's All-America halfback, the country's leading college football scorer.
3. He was heavyweight boxing champion until he ran into Joe Louis.
4. He is coach of Washington's powerful rowing crew.
5. Britain's fistic hope, the Welchman stayed 15 rounds with Joe Louis.
6. Coach of California's Rose Bowl football team, he had an unbeaten season.
7. The Alabama coach directed the Crimson Tide to an untied, unbeaten season.
8. The southern girl won the women's national golf championship.
9. He broke four world's swimming records.
10. He was the jockey who skippered War Admiral.
11. He paced Old Westbury team to the world's polo championship.
12. Still the boy wonder of baseball, he didn't pitch as well as Cleveland hoped he would.
13. The rookie star of professional football, his passing brought Washington's Redskins the National league championship.
14. This petite lass from Chile surprised by winning the U. S. women's tennis singles championship.
15. If you take Don Budge out, Von Cramm is about the best singles player among the world's amateurs.
16. Larruping Lou carried his iron-man stunt through another season, grabbed a fair share of baseball's slugging honors, helped the Yankees win the world series and struck the decisive blow that brought the American league victory in the all-star baseball game.
17. He skippered Ranger to four straight wins over Endeavor II in the America's cup yachting races.
18. He successfully defended his world lightweight championship.
19. He drew a good salary from Brooklyn for loafing, then became pilot of the Boston Bees.
20. The Colonel managed the Giants to a National league pennant.
21. He was professional football's leading ground-gainer and spearhead of the Washington running attack.
22. He garnered virtually all the clouting honors in the National league.
23. She was the leading mermaid of the year.
24. Detroit infielder who won the American league's batting championship, he also received the most valuable player award.
25. The dour doctor coached Pittsburgh to an unbeaten football season and saw the Panthers ranked first in a country-wide poll of sport writers.
26. He was one of the reasons for Sutherland's success, an All-America halfback.
27. He won more golf tournaments than any other player.
28. Meadows soared to new pole-vaulting heights.
29. He kept up with his teammate, Meadows.
30. He whipped Harry Thomas at the start of his training efforts for a heavyweight championship meeting with Joe Louis next summer.
31. He won two world series games, starred as an all-star game pitcher and was one of the leading hurlers of the American league.
32. He managed the Yankees to another world championship.
33. He won the National open golf championship.
34. He was Yale's All-American halfback.
35. He is the world's No. 1 tennis star.
36. He was home run leader of the American league.
37. World heavyweight champion, he whipped Farr in his first defense two months after kayoing Braddock.
38. The national amateur golf champion, he won after many tries.

Tygers Meet Pennsylvania Club In Home Gym Tonight

Seek Third Victory In Game With Strong Erie East Barnstormers.

AN exhibition of the Pennsylvania brand of basketball will be presented in the Mansfield high school athletic plant tonight when the Tygers do battle with the barnstorming invaders of Erie East.

A dominant figure in Pennsylvania basketball for many years, the Erie cagemen come to the city tonight boasting a record marred by only one defeat.

Lose to New Philly.

The lone setback was administered by New Philadelphia, which took the out-of-state quintet into camp by a 40 to 35 margin Monday evening.

Mansfield will be seeking its third victory of the season in tonight's tussle, but whether it can achieve it remains to be seen.

The invaders will present a veteran lineup with every member a scoring threat. The chief sharpshooter is Hevdsik, a forward, who caged 15 points in the New Philadelphia game.

Erie will hold a decided edge in height, and it will be necessary for the Tygers to click on all cylinders to offset this advantage with their smooth passing game.

Defeated by Canton McKinley in their last appearance, the Tygers are expected by Coach Russ Murphy to show improved form in tonight's melee.

Murphy believes he has remedied the majority of the mistakes the Tygers committed at Canton.

Scoring Pace Spotty.

One of the chief weaknesses the Tygers have displayed in their games to date is tehir failure to score with any degree of regularity. The combination will be difficult to upset if it ever hits a scoring stride.

Although still experimenting with the lineup, Murphy will start Scott and Lewis at the forwards, Dials at center and Hallabrin and Lyons at the guards.

A preliminary game featuring the Tyger reserves will precede the main attraction at 7:15 p. m.

SUTHERLAND REPORTED THROUGH AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The realm of the mighty Golden Panther of the University of Pittsburgh awaited today a reply from the man who boosted it to national prominence — taciturn "Jock" Sutherland—for an answer to a rumor he would resign as head football coach.

The story had been whispered here for weeks but Harry Keck, sports editor of the Sun-Telegraph, brought it into the open with a declaration that Sutherland "was reported to have lost favor with Chancellor John G. Bowman and other administrative officers" at the university's sky-scraper cathedral of learning.

Keck added he had been informed by a source he did not disclose that the canny Scot who came to this country an immigrant boy, and received his education and his opportunity to make good at the university "was virtually signed to succeed Howard Jones as coach at the University of Southern California beginning with the 1939 season."

Neither university would admit nor deny the report. Officials of the University of Pittsburgh would not comment. At Southern California it was pointed out that Jones' contract would not expire until March and that there would be no comment until then.

This left a reply to Sutherland, who was due last night in New Orleans, where Athletic Director James Hagan of Pitt previously had gone, to attend sessions of the National Collegiate association and other groups.

In his 14 years at Pitt, Sutherland's mighty teams have bowled over many of the nation's outstanding elevens to amass a total of 103 victories, 18 defeats and 10 ties.

SHUTE ONLY GOLF CHAMP TO REPEAT

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK—(AP)—There's a strong possibility that the year 1937 will go down in the history of American golf as the last campaign in which championship aspirants were permitted the use of unlimited arsenals. On Jan. 1, 1938, the United States Golf Association rule cutting championship equipment to 14 clubs will go into effect.

While they had the chance, the 1937 club-swingers made good use of the weapons at their disposal. They blasted all but one of the 1936 national title-holders loose from their moorings, drew sufficient galleries to give the U. S. G. A. a "pleasingly profitable" year, contested U. S. titles in areas that never before had witnessed a championship, and gained the first Ryder cup victory ever won by a visiting team.

Lone repeating champion, and therefore worthy of a special niche in the links hall of fame, was Densmore Shute, the modest, methodical shot-maker from Massachusetts. Having won the 1936 P. G. A. crown in November at Pinehurst, Denny made sure he wouldn't be the most short-lived champion on record by surviving this year's renewal in May at Pittsburgh.

"G-men" knocked off the two other principal crowns. Johnny Goodman and Ralph Guldahl, both of whom had been rapping on the throne-room door for several years, finally broke it down this summer. Omaha Johnny waded through a strong field at Portland, Ore., and staved off a game rally by Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in the final round to win the amateur title he'd been trying for since 1929. Slope-shouldered Guldahl set up a new 72-hole record of 281 in winning the open at Birmingham, Mich.

The women's and public links crowns also were taken over by new members of golf's royal family. Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, pupil of 1936 open champion Tony Manero and a hard hitter from Chapel Hill, N. C., succeeded Britain's undefending Pam Barton at Memphis, Tenn. Bruce McCorrick, Los Angeles fireman, came out on top of the pay-as-you-play heap at San Francisco.

Kipke Reveals Future Plans

Expects to Continue In Coaching Game.

NEW ORLEANS — (U.P.)—Harry Kipke, who coached the University of Michigan football team for nine years and was unexpectedly dismissed a month ago, announced today in a speech before the New Orleans Rotary club that he intended to remain in the coaching game. This was the first definite announcement by Kipke concerning his future plans.

"In the last three weeks I've had quite a number of offers to go into various businesses," Kipke said. "Some of them are very tempting. But the thrill and lure of this coaching profession are deeply rooted. When fall comes around I hope I'm out there with the boys."

As retiring president of the American Football Coaches association of America, holding its annual meeting here, Kipke was invited to speak before the club today. He spoke about the problems and pitfalls of a football coach and wished his successor every "break."

"They can't keep Michigan down for long," said Kipke. "Support my successor and stand by the team I say to Michigan men everywhere."

Even while Kipke was speaking other schools were seeking his services. Two southern schools, rumored to be Mississippi and Mississippi State already have opened negotiation with him. Kipke's name also was linked with the coaching job at the University of Pennsylvania, which Harvey Harmon vacated on Monday.

A last quarter rally enabled the Ohio State Reformatory quintet to edge the stubborn Timken Roller Bearings of Mt. Vernon, 30 to 29, in a tilt on the Reformatory court last night. The invaders led at he half, 17 to 11, and were still ahead, 21 to 19, when play was resumed in the final chapter. Calhoun set the individual pace with 13 points, and Roberts topped the losers with 10.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—The Chicago Bears will play the Washington Redskins, pro football champions, in Texas next month but plans for a game in California have been dropped, Bears' owner George Halas said today.

Trouble Seen For A Leaders

Church Pace Makers Face Tough Foes Tonight.

A change or two may result in the standings of the City Class A church league tonight when five games will be presented at the Y. M. C. A.

The Temple Emanuel and First M. E. quintets, which share the lead, face tough assignments. First M. E. meets Central M. E., which holds down third place, and the Temple representatives engage First Lutheran, tied for fourth place.

Tonight's program will be opened at 7 o'clock with a game between St. Johns and St. Pauls. In addition to the games involving the leaders, the program includes meetings between Mayflower and Baptist and Episcopal and United Presbyterian.

Alabama's Speed, Smartness May Offset Golden Bears' Weight, Power.

By ROBERT MYERS

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Having spent days taking the two teams apart to find out what makes them tick, sideline observers came to the conclusion today that betting odds favoring California over Alabama in the Rose Bowl are slightly askew.

Since the day the Golden Bears named the Crimson Tide as their foe in the New Years day grid tussle, California has ruled the favorite.

Things have changed, and most of the so-called experts view the game as a toss up between Alabama's speed and accepted smartness, and California's power, superior weight and experience.

Secrecy is the keynote of practice with both Alabama and California working behind locked gates. Henry Sparks, reserve end, is still limping and the Bears may not be able to use him Saturday. From Alabama's hideout comes word that Captain Leroy Monsky's eye injury will be protected by a special mask.

* * *

SUGAR BOWL—Louisiana State refurbished its aerial attack, its best weapon this season, for the meeting with Santa Clara. The fact that Coach Bernie Moore chose to spend the last real scrimmage on aerial plays yesterday strengthened the belief that the Tigers will strike through the air against the Broncos.

* * *

COTTON BOWL—Rice held its final strenuous workout yesterday in a heavy rain, which lengthened the odds on Rice. The Owls have three complete backfields to pit against Whizzer White, Colorado's one-man attack.

* * *

ORANGE BOWL — Coach Jack Meagher says his three teams of Auburn Plainsmen are 'ready,' but there's only a loud moan from Michigan State's Charlie Bachman who ordered more energy and thought in rehearsals.

* * *

SUN BOWL — Emmett Moan, West Virginia's towering halfback, continues to amaze Texans with his passing—no mean feat Texas Tech's own passer, Gene Barnett, was outstanding yesterday, too, which indicated an aerial battle at El Paso.

* * *

EAST-WEST — Coaches Bernie Bierman and Andy Kerr of the East team ruled out lateral passes, a favorite weapon at Minnesota and Colgate yesterday, on the ground that the players had not worked together enough. The West coaches, on the other hand, came out squarely for "any plan that will gain a yard." Neither side has decided on starting baskfields or lines.

PAT McCARTHY WEDS

TOLEDO — (UP) — Patrick McCarthy, Notre Dame football player who is to be graduated next June, was married yesterday to Miss Margaret Mary La Plante. They were sweethearts in their high school days.

That two men who recently escaped from Alcatraz prison could have made the swim to shore is indicated by this little girl's record. She is Anastasia (Babe) Scott, San Francisco girl who swam the mile and a quarter from the federal prison to the mainland in 47 minutes.

Five Golfers Tied For Lead

Stage Playoff Today In Hollywood, Fla., Open.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—(AP)—The nation's touring par-crackers strode toward the $4,000 Hollywood Beach hotel open tournament playoff line today with five entries tied for the lead.

Here's how they lined up at the start of the 36-hole final dash for the finish: Horton Smith, Chicago, 67-71-138; Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., 67-71-138; Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., 69-69-138; Craig Wood, Rumson, N. J., 69-69-138; Frank Moore, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 69-69-138.

Those 138's, two under par for 36 holes, gave the five just a one stroke lead over three others. Dick Metz of Chicago, Willie MacFarlane of Hollywood and Bruce Coltart of Haddonfield, N. J.

Three more, Bill Heinlein of Indianapolis, Denny Shute, P. G. A. champion, and Sam Byrd of Philadelphia, former Yankee outfielder, were bracketed at the 140 notch, in easy striking distance.

Back of them the field was even more bunched, with six players—including Ralph Guldahl, the national open champion—at 141, four at 142 and six at 143.

Sam Snead, West Virginia slugger, still hitting wild approaches and putting poorly, added a 71 yesterday to his opening 73 for a 144 total.

De CORREVONT WEARS SAME SIZE HAT, NOT CHANGED BY GLARE OF SPOTLIGHT

This is one of a series on Bill De Correvont, outstanding high school football player.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—If Bill De Correvont, the most famous high school football star of his time, wore a hat, it would still be the same size as before his football feats lifted him from an obscure lad on Chicago's west side to national prominence.

He has taken everything that's happened to him in stride. Right down to the last day of practice he was hardest worker on the Austin high squad. Coach Heiland never had to tell Bill to leave his clippings at home.

The last high school game De Correvont played in gives an insight to his character. It was a post-season game against the championship Jackson, Tenn., team at Memphis two weeks ago. The first time he carried the ball from scrimmage he raced 37 yards off tackle for a touchdown. Early in the second period his shoulder was injured and he had to be taken out of the game.

Unbiased observers say rival players piled on De Correvont after he was down causing the injury. Not so De Correvont.

"It was my fault that I got hurt," said De Correvont. "I was wearing an old pair of shoulder pads that I liked because they felt good. If I had worn the new pair which gave me more protection I wouldn't have been hurt."

* * *

ONE of De Correvont's teammates, Donald Radke, disapproved of the Jackson team's tactics so violently that he took a punch at one of the southern players.

"They seem to take more delight in making it possible for De Correvont to make a long run than he gets out of the run himself," said Heiland. "They know that when they shake Bill loose he's going someplace."

De Correvont's modesty has been evident throughout his career. Far from touchdown-crazy, he frequently has carried the ball into scoring position and yielded the touchdown honor to teammates. Quarterback Sonny Skor recalls one occasion when De Correvont carried the ball to the one-yard line and then in a huddle said:

"You take it over, Sonny."

When a Chicago newspaper was collecting ballots for an all-city team De Correvont personally took the stump against himself. He asked all Austin students and supporters to vote for Alf Bauman, tackle, and Quarterback Skor.

* * *

MANY times during his career De Correvont has proved his gameness under fire. Only three times has he been hurt—the injury in his freshman year, a broken nose as a sophomore and the shoulder injury in his final game. When he broke his nose against Oak Park in 1935 he refused to quit. He wore a special helmet with a nose guard attached and kept on playing.

"He isn't afraid of being hurt and hurting him doesn't stop him," recalled his coach of that year. "After he put on the mask he ran wild."

The Park Avenue Baptists have not given up hope of winning the Class B Church basketball league title.

Defeated last week by the First Lutherans, the Baptists came back strong to turn back the heretofore unbeaten Mayflower quintet, 26 to 18, at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The victory put the Baptists a game behind the Lutherans, who kept their slate clean by winning over the First Christian, 33 to 10.

In the other games, South Main registered its initial victory by defeating the B'Nai Jacob outfit, 23 to 18; First Presbyterian beat First M. E., 22 to 11, and St. John's walloped Central M. E., 38 to 12.

USES CASINO FOR SCHOOL

Mexico Takes Over Agua Caliente Property From U. S. Owners.

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The Mexican government took over from its American owners today Tiajuana's famed Agua Caliente Casino, once valued at $10,000,000, for use as schools.

President Lazaro Cardenas, an avowed foe of gambling, closed the Southern California mecca early in his presidential term.

BUDGE REDEEMS HIMSELF

Receives Cheers In Australia as He Whips Crawford.

SYDNEY, Australia—(AP)—Don Budge, American national tennis singles champion, redeemed himself today before 12,000 cheering fans by soundly whipping Jack Crawford of Australia, 7-5, 6-1, 6-1, in an exhibition match.

The crowd's bitterness of Monday over Budge's lackadaisical play with Germany's Baron Gottfried von Cramm changed as the redheaded Californian flashed many aces past the bewildered Australian.

CHUCK ADDS TO TOTAL

Chuckovits Scores 17 Points as Toledo U. Wins.

Toledo university's crack team took its 12th consecutive victory Tuesday night, recording an impressive 51 to 26 triumph over Illinois Wesleyan at Toledo. Six of Toledo's winning string came at the tail end of last season.

Chuck Chuckovits, the most publicized basketball player in Ohio so far this season, upheld his reputation as a scoring demon by making six field goals and five free throws for 17 points against Wesleyan. It gave him a five-game total of 124 points.

Downtown Coaches Have Chance In Wisconsin.

NEW ORLEANS — (AP)—The football fan who likes to "play" the game over again the minute he leaves the stadium has a chance to do it with experts in the midwest. He can haggle his point with the coach himself, said Harry A. Stuhldreher, University of Wisconsin mentor, who is attending the meeting of the American Football Coaches association.

"The street corner critic is a pretty big headache to all coaches but we think we're doing something about him in our section," he said. "Each Monday, after a big game, fans attend a luncheon at which motion pictures of the contest are shown. Afterwards, the fans send up written questions which I answer."

Illini Snaps Irish Streak

Hands Notre Dame First Loss In 20 Games.

CHICAGO — (AP)—Notre Dame can go to work now on a new basketball victory string—with no thanks from the Fighting Irish to the Fighting Illini of Illinois.

The Illini, playing their last game before opening defense of their share of the Big Ten title against Indiana Jan. 1, snapped Notre Dame's impressive 19-game winning streak last night by taking a 33 to 32 overtime thriller at Champaign. The last previous Irish defeat was suffered last Dec. 19 on the same floor, 44 to 19.

The regulation time ended with the score tied at 30-all. Forward Ed Sadowski of Notre Dame having forced the contest into overtime with a field goal in the last 30 seconds. Louis Boudreau, Illinois' brilliant leader, then put his team in front with a long basket, and a free throw by Center Pick Dehner more than offset a one-handed goal by Earl Brown, Irish guard, in the final half-minute.

TURNS BACK ALUMNI

Galion High Chalks Up 33-27 Win In Non-league Tilt.

GALION—The Orangemen of Galion high chalked another basketball victory here last night, defeating the Alumni, 33 to 27, on the Junior high hardwood. The Galion high outfit swept into the lead in the opening stanza and were never headed. At the half the winners were leading by an 18 to 11 count. Grubaugh, with 10 points, topped the Orangemen, while Casey led the losers with seven. In the preliminary attraction the Seniors beat the Reserves, 38 to 33.

JOHNNY ALLEN HONORED FOR HILL ACHIEVEMENTS

Wins Sporting News Award as One of Outstanding Leaders In Baseball.

ST. LOUIS—(U.P.)—Six men were named today to receive the annual awards to outstanding leaders in the baseball world for the 1937 season by Sporting News, baseball's national weekly.

Chosen from the business, management and player ranks, those named were E. G. Barrow, secretary-business manager of the New York Yankees, William B. McKechnie, manager of the Boston Bees; Johnny Allen, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, Bob Lamotte, vice-president of the Savannah Sally-league club, Jake Flowers, manager of the Eastern Shore league Salisbury club, and Charles Keller, outfielder for the Newark Bears.

Barrow Selected.

Barrow was cited for his acumen in handling players, maintaining sources of new talent and the business conduct of his club. McKechnie was named for his skill in developing Pitchers Jim Turner and Lou Fette.

Allen was recognized for his feat in winning 15 games and losing only one last season. He holds a percentage record of .739, an all-time high for major league pitchers.

Lamotte, a onetime shortstop, was given credit for the record-breaking 192,726 attendance at Savannah last season. Flowers, former Brooklyn Dodger and St. Louis Cardinal, was picked as the leading pilot in the minor leagues because he led his Salisbury club to the championship after a league ruling dropped the club from top to bottom by subtracting 21 victories.

Vitt Second Choice.

Ranked just below Flowers among the minor league managers was Oscar Vitt, who piloted the Newark Bears to an International league championship last season before going to the Cleveland Indians.

Keller's outstanding batting performance which carried him to the top of the International league's batting average in his first year as a professional won him the award.

NAVAL PROGRAM REMARKS SPUR STOCK MARKET

Roosevelt Stimulates Interest In Group Which Might Gain Benefit.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Shares that might be expected to benefit from a rearmament program edged higher in today's stock market, but the balance of the list presented an uneven appearance.

President Roosevelt's remarks at a press conference, indicating he might ask congress for a larger naval building program, stimulated interets in steels, aircrafts, coppers, electrical equipments and other issues of this group.

After a moderately active opening the pace tuned down. Several large blocks were exchanged in the steel section.

Bonds inclined lower with U. S. government issues narrow. Commodities were mixed. Grains were slightly higher at Chicago.

Electric power production for the week ending Christmas day, the Edison Electric Institute reported, declined less than was normally expected for this holiday period. Railroads reporting November net operating income, however, showed a sharp drop under 1936.

"Iron Age," pointing out that steel operations in the final week of the year were at less than 20 per cent of capacity, held out the hope that some improvement might be expected early in January, but added that further gains perhaps would be "slow and halting."

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON—(AP)—(U. S. Dept. of Agr.)—Very little business was transacted yesterday in the Boston wool market. Occasional buyers took some graded French combing fine territory wools at prices ranging 72 to 75 cents, scoured basis, the maximum price having been paid more readily than during the previous week. Fleeces thus far this week have been very quiet. A few inquiries were received but they have not as yet resulted in sales. Asking prices appear fairly firm, despite quietness of trade.

FILIPINO RUNS AMUCK, KILLS 3

Wounds 10 Others In Mad Dash In California.

OAKLAND, Calif.—(AP)—Bonifacio Aranda, 28-year-old Filipino dishwasher, killed three countrymen and wounded 10 others in a shooting and stabbing frenzy, police said, after his wife left him. He was held under observation.

The dishwasher, police said, was in a cafe booth with his estranged wife, Mary. Suddenly he drew a pistol and shot her in the arm.

Aranda rushed into a barbershop nearby, seized a pair of scissors, ran through a pool hall, and into another eating place, slashing as he went. Three died of stab wounds.

ORGANIZE HUNT

Southern Ohio Farmers To Chase Foxes, Wolves.

URBANA —(U.P.)— They laughed when a Logan county representative introduced a bill in the Ohio legislature to place a bounty of $10 a head on wolves, but it's no joke in the area that includes Champaign, Clark, Union and Logan counties.

A big fox hunt will be conducted near here on New Year day, but the hunters will be requested to keep their eyes open for wolves.

Northern Chile is the driest area on earth of which there are authentic records.

ABANDONED CAR KIDNAPING CLUE

Pennsy Church Organist Forced Into Auto, Later Pushed Out.

SOMERSET, Pa. — (AP) — An abandoned automobile provided state motor police today with a new clue in the abduction of Mrs. Roland Blattenberger, 35-year-old Windber church organist.

She told officers a man stopped her Sunday night and forced her, at gun point, to drive to a lonely road where he pushed her from her moving auto. State Motor Police Sergeant J. A. Blair said the car was found in a thicket near the mining town of Central City.

Blair said police believed the man might be the same who kidnaped Joe Goldberg of Cleveland, O., last week and released him unharmed.

CURB SERVICE FOR FUNSTERS

Detroit Buses To 'Detour' For New Year Celebrators.

DETROIT, Mich.—(AP)—From 1 to 5 a. m. on the first day of 1938, Fred A. Nolan said, "there will be a lot of people who will not feel like walking any farther than necessary."

And there'll be motorists who won't want to drive home from a party.

So Nolan, general manager of Detroit's street railway and motorbus system, announced that, between the hours mentioned, "all our buses will go right to the door of any passenger who lives on a paved street not more than two blocks off the regular route."

The service will not include ringing doorbells.

RETIRED BISHOP DIES

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Bishop Nathaniel D. Pendleton, retired bishop of the General Church of the New Jerusalem, died today at his home in nearby Bryn Athyn. He was 72.

KILLED BY AUTO

COLUMBUS—(AP)—John Morris, city waterworks foreman, was killed by an automobile while en route to work today.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Court of Common Pleas.

State of Ohio, County of Richland.

Allen B. Martin, plaintiff, vs. Roelliff B. Martin et al, defendants.

Harry Weston, a minor, and Mrs. H. C. O'Dell, his guardian and next friend, whose last known place of residence was 6917 So. Wabash St., Chicago, Ill., and Herbert Wing and Harry Wing, minors, and the Supt. of the Christian Children's Home, their next friend, whose last known place of residence was 4048 Lake Park Ave., Chicago, Ill., will take notice that Allen B. Martin filed his Amended Petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Richland County, Ohio, on the 30th. day of September, 1937, naming said minor parties defendant in said action and alleging that plaintiff and said defendants are devisees, legatees, and heirs at law of William B. Martin, deceased, who died on the 19th. day of January, 1937, leaving a paper writing purporting to be a last will and testament, which has been duly admitted to probate; that said paper writing is not the last will and testament of William B. Martin, deceased.

The prayer of the petition is that an issue be made up as to whether said paper writing is the last will and testament of William B. Martin, deceased; that the same be set aside and held for naught, and for such other and further relief as is just and equitable.

The defendants named above are required to answer on or before the 29th day of January, 1938.

EVERY DAY IN 1938

WE STAND READY TO SERVE YOUR FINANCIAL NEEDS!

As another year rolls around, we wish our friends—old and new—the best of happiness and good fortune.

Of course, each New Year brings unexpected events. There may be sudden money needs. Come in and we will help you make short work of any financial problems you come up against in 1938.

We have a special service for persons desiring additional cash or lower payments on their present obligations. We advance enough money to pay off their present bills, also providing further funds. The first payment, then, does not fall due for 30 days.

If you need extra cash right now to clean up old year debts—or for some other purpose—see us today. We promise you will find friendliness and cordial reception here—every day in 1938. That's one New Year's resolution that will not be broken.

PROMISES NEW 'SENSATIONS'

Senate Committee Says More Disclosures Due In Probe of Liquor Department.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A sensational investigating committee promised new disclosures today in state liquor monopoly operations after hearing evidence that a liquor department inspector also operated an agency for nearly two years in asserted violation of the law.

Former Sen. James Metzenbaum of Cleveland, committee counsel, scheduled a public hearing to air another of what he called "the almost limitless number of phases of this department's conduct that should not be condoned."

He said the scheduled hearing depended upon the availability of desired witnesses whose identities he declined to reveal.

Held Two Posts.

Willard V. Archer, 35-year-old non-practicing attorney of Belle Valley, Noble county village, testified at the committee's first public hearing last night that he was appointed a liquor department inspector on Jan. 2, 1936, and received an agency to sell liquor on commission about two weeks later.

He collected more than $12,500 in salary, expenses and commissions from the state from the dual connection, vouchers introduced by Metzenbaum showed.

The committee counsel promptly quoted a section of the law prohibiting employes of the department from having a "financial interest" in the sale of liquor.

"Here is a very apparent, plain and admitted violation of the law," said Metzenbaum. Then he turned to Archer with: "Can you tell us why you were permitted to break the law, why Alfred Humphrey (chief enforcement officer) and J. W. Miller (department director) approved these payments to you in obvious violation of the law?"

"I have no answer," Archer replied "I still don't know what they should or shouldn't do."

Denies Improprieties.

The witness was questioned closely about "electioneering" while receiving a state salary and traveling at state expense but denied any improper activities.

He obtained a recommendation for a liquor agency from Clarence Graham, "a personal friend," Archer said.

"Isn't he (Graham) the State Democratic Central committeeman from the 15th District?" asked Sen. Verner E. Metcalf (R-Washington).

"Honestly, I didn't know that," Archer replied.

Archer said he was told about three weeks ago that "I would have to quit one job or another" and that his resignation as inspector was filed with the department this week to become effective Jan. 1 His agency permit expires next month.

Archer's agency is the only one in Noble county because, he said, "It's about the only wet spot." Agencies are established in communities unable to maintain a state liquor store profitably. Operators are paid six per cent commission on sales.

HOLIDAY POSTAL RECEIPTS HIT ALL-TIME HIGH

Homberger Estimates Office Did $1,500 More Business Than Last Year.

Postal business totalling $1,500 more than last year was handled at the Mansfield postoffice during the 1937 Christmas season, setting an all-time record, Postmaster Herman E. Homberger, said today.

Although complete figures on the volume of business transacted during the holiday season will not be available, Homberger estimates the receipts were about $1,500 greater than during the 1936 season. Last year's Christmas business had been the best in the history of the office.

$25,000 Stamps Sold.

Postage stamps amounting to $12,325.27, representing $25,000 of the four small denominations used on Christmas greeting cards, were sold during the 11-day period preceding Christmas.

The number of stamps sold were: 1 cent, 50,000; 1½ cent, 330,000; 2 cent, 70,000, and 3 cent, 175,000. These figures do not include the larger denominations used for parcel post packages. No record of these stamps were kept for the Christmas period, Homberger said.

Cancellation of greeting cards for the five days preceding Christmas this year totalled 535,800. Cancellations for the first three days of last week reached 361,800 as against 303,100 in 1936.

SUN GLOW HOLDS SALES MEETING

30 Representatives of Company in City for Annual Session.

Thirty national sales representatives of Sun Glow Industries, Inc., were in Mansfield today for the annual sales convention held at the company offices, 270 West Sixth street. The convention opened yesterday and will end Friday.

Sales plans for the coming year are being outlined, Roy M. Gleason, assistant sales manager of the company said. The salesmen will visit the Sun Glow factories in Fredericktown, Logan, and Tippecanoe City, where factory managers will explain production methods.

The visitors will be guests at a banquet Thursday evening.

WPA ADDS 100 TO WORK RELIEF ROLL IN COUNTY

Latest Additions Boost Total to 350, Highest in Several Months.

More than 100 men and women have been put to work on WPA projects in Richland county in the past two weeks to boost the county's rolls to about 350, the highest mark in several months, J. L. Kelly, Sixth district WPA director, said today.

Among the workers who were given jobs were 10 women and 94 men, virtually exhausting the supply of eligible workers on the county's rolls, Kelly said.

Most of the women are employed on sewing projects or at transcribing and recording old city and county records.

75 on Sewer Project.

The $39,000 Mansfield sanitary sewer project is providing work for about 75 men, while a few others are employed on transcribing and recording jobs.

The increased number of workers on federal work projects has had a noticeable effect on the demand for direct relief in the county during the past few days, according to Miss Mildred Armstrong, county welfare supervisor.

The number of applications for help has dropped, she pointed out, in contrast to the rapid increase a few weeks ago when WPA activities were reduced to the lowest pointed out, in contrast to the rapid increase a few weeks ago when WPA activities were reduced to the lowest point since WPA came into existence.

REMEMBER THAT NIGHT

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

(Copyright 1937)

CHAPTER XVIII

Several times Karen thought, It doesn't seem real. But it is real. I'm going to be in Philip's play and I'll work as I've never worked before. I'll put my heart and soul in it!"

At last Brenda consulted her small watch studded with diamonds.

"I've a late engagement. Craig Stanhope is coming. Do you remember him?" And when Karen nodded, she said, "And he remembered you. She arose. "I'm going to give you a script. There's a rehearsal tomorrow. We've been rehearsing you know, but the girl whose place you are taking decided to go to China to marry a young newspaper man."

Karen became Brenda's friend and it was obvious to every member of the cast that Brenda was interested in the talented though untrained young girl. The rehearsals were long and tedious but the director, Sidney Kennedy, was painstaking and patient. Unlike "Until Tomorrow" there were no outbursts of temperament, no petty jealousies, no half-hearted interest. Scenes were done again and again uncomplainingly.

Karen thrilled to lines Philip had written and to Brenda's magnificent interpretation of them. A deep happiness filled her. She did not seem to live except at rehearsals. She forgot to eat. Now everything except the play was unreal. Roxanne laughed at her absent-mindedness — a different Roxanne of late since she had been seeing Eddie Wells.

But one evening when Karen was dressing to have dinner with Brenda, Roxanne looked up and said, "I'm trying to fall in love with Eddie. He asked me to marry him. But when I look at him, I don't see him. I see Bill. And sometimes when I'm singing, all the men in the place are Bill."

* * *

In her bedroom, Brenda was under the hands of a hairdresser when Karen came in. How alive, how young Karen looked with her face aglow from the cold!

Brenda pointed to the chaise-longue. "Irene will be finished with me directly. I have news. Philip and Lilyan and her father will be home tomorrow."

"Does Philip know I'm in his play?"

Cheerfully Brenda lied. "Oh, no. Won't he be surprised?"

"I'm afraid he won't like it," Karen said.

Dear child, if only you knew!

Karen said, "He doesn't think I have anything to offer. He think I should never have come to New York." Would she meet Lilyan?

"The night we open in Baltimore, Philip will be there and he will see that you have much to offer. Sidney is tremendously pleased with you, Karen. He thinks you're so responsive. You have much to learn still, of course. Even I have much to learn still. It's arduous work. You've been behind the scenes. You've seen the theater stripped of its so-called glamour. You've seen it a cold ugly place with row on row of empty seats. And it's time you realize that your life doesn't belong to you. You've dedicated it to the public."

Karen looked at the lovely expressive hands folded calmly. Then her eyes met Bernda's. "Is that why you never married — because you didn't think you could do two jobs well?" She had met Craig Stanhope briefly several times of late and had liked him more each time. Twice after a rehearsal he had driven her to the apartment.

Brenda's lips smiled but her eyes looked unhappy. "No. You mean Craig, don't you? It wasn't because I couldnt be a doctor's wife and an actress at the same time. I think I could have managed that since we're older and therefore tolerant and have such great admiration for each other's work. There is another reason. You see, there is something in my past that Craig doesn't know. There should be no dark secrets in marriage."

* * *

Irene left. Watching Brenda change from a green negligee into a black dress with diamond clips. Karen wondered if she should speak her mind. Was there any connection between herself and Brenda and a young mother's desertion many years ago? For days the question had tormented her. She had dismissed it as absurd but it had stayed in her mind. Why, of all stage-struck girls, had Brenda selected her and made her her friend? Roxanne had said repeatedly that such things didn't happen. But she had told Brenda about her life and certainly if there had been any connection, she would have spoken then.

Brenda smiled at her through the mirror. "Won't you be glad to see Philip? You love him. I've known it since the night on the roof when he asked you to dance. I told Craig you were madly in love with Philip." She faced Karen. "But he loves Lilyan with all his heart. He's built up a beautiful illusion of her. It will hurt when he's married, won't it? I know. A long time ago I saw the man I loved marry some one else. That man was Craig. After that I didn't see him for years. You're in the same position I was then. I filled my life with work. But you're going to be thrown with Philip constantly in your work, Karen. You must not let him know."

"He doesn't. Every one else seems to know except him. I can't hide it."

Brenda went toward the door. "Let's have dinner." As they went to the dining room, she put her arm around Karen's shoulder. "You will see Philip the day after tomorrow."

Wearing a simple dark dress, Karen was back stage when she saw Philip come in. For days she had prayed, "Let me find him different so that I won't love him any more." It had been a futile prayer. Philip was the same, tall, bronze-haired, sunburned.

Glimpsing her, he paused and looked at her. How could he have forgotten how slender and young and lovely Karen was? Her face was pale, her eyes large and dark and clear, and the dark curls a little disheveled.

"Karen." He came up to her and her warm hand slipped into his.

She felt weak. "I'll break the news to you gently, Philip. I'm in this play."

But he did not seem to hear what she had said for looking at her.

"Oh!" He smiled. "You're in the play? That's fine!"

"Brenda Bond sent for me."

"I told you she remembered you." He felt amused and strangely happy. "I hope you're good. You'd better be good. It's good to be back." He was serious suddenly. "It's good to be back in the theater." Then he looked directly into her eyes. "I'm going to be married quite soon. Did you know that?"

"I heard. I—I hope you'll be very happy, Philip."

Is America Safe—?

WINGS, ARMY ON WHEELS SECOND DEFENSE LINE

U.S. Ranks Well in Warplanes, Has Small But Potent Land Fighting Force.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second article of a series of three analyzing America's defenses.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
(Associated Press Writer)

WASHINGTON—Back of Uncle Sam's battle fleets is the nation's secondary defense—coast artillery and fortifications, a small but highly mobile army and an increasingly potent air force.

Isolated from potential enemy countries in Europe and Asia and on very friendly terms with neighboring Canada and Mexico, the United States has not felt that it needed a huge peacetime conscript army such as places a tremendous financial burden on nearly every other major country.

Since this peace-minded nation has depended primarily on a stalwart navy to hold off an aggressor, the secondary defense has been a comparatively weak link in the line of resistance to possible enemy attack.

However, there has been a steady strengthening of the army since the waning of international disarmament hopes about five years ago. Still small in numbers, it is rated by the army high command as more efficient today than at any other period in its peacetime history.

New Planes Built.

There has been tremendous progress in professional skill, mobility, modernization of weapons and equipment. Seacoast defenses are being modernized, tanks and motorized artillery are high speed, infantry with semi-automatic shoulder rifles are being reorganized in new, streamlined battalions.

Most striking advances have been in aircraft. The army now has 1,000 new planes, and another 1,000 under order. The 1,000 new planes are rated on a par in efficiency with those of any power and the new "flying fortresses" are said to be the most formidable bombers in the world. The air defense goal is 2,320 modern planes, to be attained by June, 1940.

Present strength of the regular army is some 12,000 officers and 158,000 enlisted men. The army's idea of an "irreducible minimum" defense is 14,600 officers and 165,000 men. National guard troops number 192,000, the defense objective being 210,000.

Congress has been appropriating nearly a half billion dollars yearly to strengthen the army. Military experts say, however, that an expenditure of about $150,000,000 on materials is needed now to bring army defense up to "comfortable security" stage.

Probably the most important development in the secondary defense since the World war has been the building up of an Officer's Reserve corp, now 96,500 strong. Carefully worked out defense plans call for a speedy, wartime expansion of the army with these reserve officers providing a valuable training nucleus for hundreds of thousands of recruits.

Gas Defense Adequate.

Our artillery, mostly of the French 75 type, which is being modernized for high speed towage, ranks well with other nations. French artillery technique, however, has long been rated the world's finest.

U. S. anti-aircraft guns are among the best but the supply army officers say, is not satisfactory. No particular plans, it is said, have been made for use of gas as a weapon but the army has concentrated on gas defense and developed a satisfactory mask.

Railway artillery and other big guns, which can be moved quickly, protect threatened areas between fixed coast defenses. Supplementing these in swift defense service is the new General Headquarters Air force which by 1940 is slated to reach full strength of 1,000 up-to-the-minute combat planes.

This mighty sky-squadron, under a single, centralized command, is prepared for swift, emergency action at any danger point. If New York, Seattle or other "frontier" spot were menaced by enemy warships or planes, a powerful unit of the GHQ would be immediately concentrated for their defense.

Protection Measures.

Intensive motorization, plus excellent highways, has made troop movement to most sectors of the country incredibly fast compared with World war standards. Tanks, anti-aircraft guns as well as the motorized field, artillery, infantry and machine gun units can be moved rapidly to strategic positions.

Comprehensive defense plans provide also for quick mobilization of forces to protect munition factories, vital transportation arteries and water supply systems, as well as to evacuate civilian populations from combat zones.

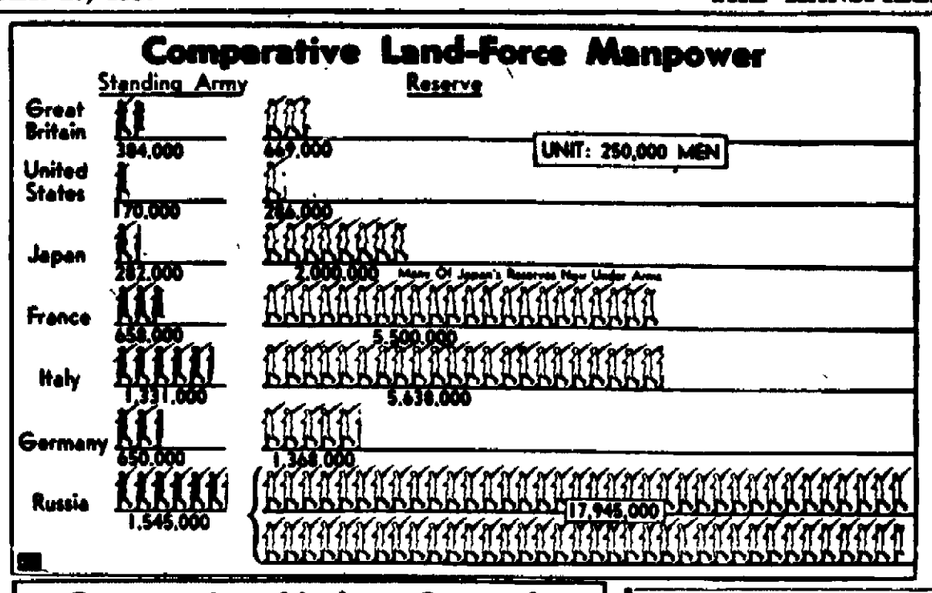
STUDENT SPEAKS

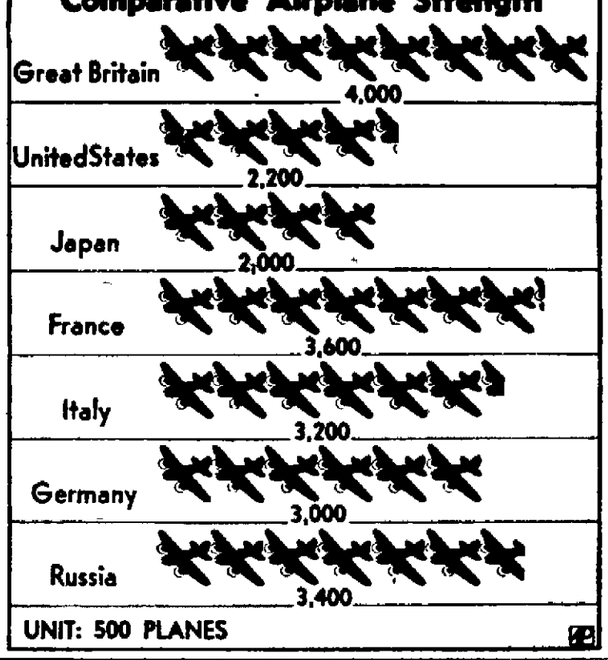
Girl Evangelist Talks At United Brethren Church Tomorrow.

Miss Thelma Mae Still, Mansfield girl evangelist and a student at Wharton college, Wharton, Ill., will speak at services at the United Brethren church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Rev. James L. Boyer, pastor, will preside.

Miss Still, who has spoken in churches in this vicinity a number of times in the last few years, is home for the Christmas holidays. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Still, 14 Woodlawn avenue.

New York was first, Los Angeles second, in the volume of air mail poundage handled in the first 10 months of 1937.





JAPAN'S GOODS FOLLOW ARMY'S ADVANCE NORTH

Tientsin Becomes Gateway For Commerce as China's Troops Fall Back.

TIENTSIN—(U.P.)—Japanese guns had barely cleared the 29th Chinese army out of Northern Hopei province before the program for expanded Japanese trade in North China began to take form.

While incoming Japanese ships bring mostly provisions for the armies and troop replacements, there is also room for Japanese goods which are destined for regular commercial channels.

Reports from the Kobe customs house state that exports to China, where Japan has investments of some $1,200,000,000, dwindled almost to nothing in August but revived in September.

During the past few years the average exports to China were valued at about $60,000 daily. Recently they have come back to almost half that amount.

Food and Textiles First

Principal imports from Japan are wheat, flour, sugar, silk and rayon textiles, paper, knitted goods, cotton textiles, machines for spinning purposes.

A boycott against Japanese goods is fairly effective in most of China except in the North. Consequently, most of the imports are coming through Tientsin. Here the Japanese can market their own goods and even develop lines which had not done so well formerly. This is true particularly of flour.

Further word from Kobe and Osaka is that orders for refined Japanese sugar have come from Peiping and Tientsin. This is because the disturbance in the South has shut off the usual sources.

Japan would welcome news of that nature because its world trade has suffered from the China adventure. Boycott movements have been started all over the world and Japan's retrenchment program, aimed at avoiding foreign purchases where possible, is not going to help its world position.

The combined population of Peiping and Tientsin is about 3,000,000. About 13,000,000 sacks of flour were imported annually from Shanghai. If Japan can get and keep that business it would help greatly.

Japan is scrupulously paying customs duties at the port of Tientsin. Japan has been accused of smuggling through this region, but that was not the big, responsible business houses. It was something like the liquor smuggling in the United States during prohibition. Involved also was the row between Japan and the Nanking government over the authority of the Hopeh Chahar Political Council.

ORGANIZES FOR OHIO TAX FIGHT

Anti-Sales Levy League to Seek Amendment Outlawing Taxes on Purchases.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Planning a referendum to abolish the retail sales tax, the Anti-Sales Tax League of Ohio has been incorporated here by Dr. Oscar Hayes, Albert E. Booth, and Daniel E. Falkner, all of Akron.

The league incorporators obtained approval from Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy of the form of the initiated petition they intend to circulate, in order to submit to the voters a constitutional amendment forever prohibiting a sales tax in Ohio.

The new organization plans to commence a state-wide campaign in a short time to obtain 300,000 signatures to put the amendment up for approval by the voters at the November, 1939, election, according to Dr. Hayes.

"The sales tax is robbing the people of nearly $50,000,000 buying power a year," said Dr. Hayes.

"That's one thing that is wrong with business today. The tax not only is inequitable in its effect on economic groups, but it is inequitable in its effect on business groups."

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1937.

"Turning over a new leaf" is also a matter of personal liberty.

No matter how many words in your vocabulary, unless you learn when to say "yes" and "no" your education will do you little good.

This being a government "of the people, for the people and by the people," how can congressmen be informed that their allowance of 20 cents a mile for trips is regarded by forty-five million voters as petty graft?

Public Displeasure Shown.

THERE is actually under way, in this and various other countries, a trade boycott of some dimensions against Japan to punish her aggressive war on China. It is not official or governmental, but voluntary and private.

It may be unwise to urge such a boycott in any public way, but it is a natural form of protest among private groups of citizens in earnest about peace and eager to do their bit to discourage military aggression anywhere. Its effectiveness can hardly be questioned.

Daughter Accidentally Kills Mother.

THERE will doubtless be quite general agreement with the decision of the Trumbull county coroner that the death of Mrs. Cordelia Campbell, member of a prominent northeastern Ohio family, resulted from accident.

None, probably, would hold to a belief that the 28-year-old daughter who fired the bullet that caused her mother's death, had any intent of killing, or even injuring, her mother.

The whole thing was one of those unfortunate affairs that so frequently happen when intoxicating liquor steals away the wits of ordinarily well-behaved people.

It appears that the girl had been drinking, in a mild sort of way—just a couple of eggnogs, with a little beer added "to cut the sweetness."

Then there was the convenient pistol; the "sudden, foolish idea" of attracting attention by firing at a lighted candle; the effort of the frightened mother to take the pistol away from her . . . the fatal shot.

"There was a shot and she fell to the floor. I was dazed and didn't know what happened. . . . It was just foolishness for me to shoot inside the house at that candle but it did seem like a good idea at the time. . . . They tell me I went out to the garden to try to commit suicide . . . but I don't remember much about that"—the distraught daughter related to investigating authorities.

Insofar as the law is concerned, no punishment will be meted out to this young woman—nor could there be any man-made punishment equal to the day and night feeling of remorse and sorrow that will carry through a lifetime of regret over the horror of that unfortunate Christmas eve occurrence.

It is accidental happenings such as this that may well be taken into account by young people as they contemplate acquiring a habit of indulgence which has been responsible for a considerable percentage of the world's tragedy, misery and poverty.

A New Clipper Route.

TO THE SOUTH SEAS by air! That is the latest service to be offered by Pan-American Airways. Romantic-sounding and formerly remote islands will be brought within the travel range of even the two-week vacationist.

Veteran Pilot Edwin C. Musick made the preliminary "precision flight," leaving Honolulu on Dec. 23 in the nineteen-ton flying boat, Samoan Clipper. Mail and express service, beginning today, will be followed later by regular bi-weekly passenger service. The date for this is to be set when the new clipper ships under construction are finished.

The new service is to connect the United States with Australia and New Zealand, with South sea stations in between. American aviation is pushing out to all corners of the earth with a commercial service that will thrive under conditions of peace, mutual trade and good will.

When Psychology Fails.

THAT Chicago court case involving a mischievous small boy and an authority on child psychology, an automobile, icy streets and indignant parents arouses mingled emotions in the reader. The ten-year-old boy was in the street throwing pieces of ice at passing cars. The professor says he got out, took the boy by the shoulders and warned him to be careful or he'd be run over. The parents maintain that the psychologist was rougher with the boy than necessary, shaking him and kicking him. The judge ruled that only parents have a right to "spank" a child.

The judge was right, of course. No parent wants strangers administering corporal punishment to his children. The professor was right, too, in a way. He might just have driven along and forgotten the child, but he knew the youngster was in a dangerous place and engaged in a dangerous sort of play, so he stopped to do something about it. But the child psychologist apparently forgot all his lore about understanding children and straightening them out with scientific wisdom and skill. He just lost his temper like any ordinary person.

Northern Seaway Again.

THE St. Lawrence Seaway project bobs up in the New York state grange. That body, in annual session, urges the early completion of the Seaway, already 90 per cent built. The vote was nearly unanimous. The farmers argue that the deepening of the channel, to let ocean shipping into the Great Lakes, would "open a wonderful artery of commerce and permit development of a vast amount of electric energy now going to waste."

Agricultural groups in many other states, along with business organizations, have presented the same argument. But so far, the private power interests and railroads, along with some of the lake shipping interests, have been strong enough to prevent passage of the Seaway treaty at Washington. Lately, too, new opposition has appeared in Canada. The Ontario government objects. It seems as if, whenever one of the two countries wants this improvement, the other doesn't.

"THIS WILL HAVE TO BE MADE LARGER"

Japan Finds Penetration of China Difficult

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

The argument of their diplomatic representatives in Washington has been, all along, that their home forces did not have to defeat the island invaders outright — that, meeting reasonably prolonged resistance, they presently would defeat themselves.

Not that the Chinese have not wanted to win hands-down and kick the islanders backward, off the mainland into the sea. I have heard Ambassador C. T. Wang say very vigorously, "When a burglar tries to loot your house, you don't try to make terms with him; you kill him if you can." However, Dr. Wang realizes, like any other reasonable person, that China is militarily ill-equipped for a toe-to-toe fight, and that Japan is well prepared—if it can get the affair over in a hurry.

* * *

ECONOMIC STRAIN.

Not since pre-World war days have I been in Nippon, but even then the economic strain on the Japanese masses was terrible.

My acquaintance was mainly with native Tokio newspapermen—pretty intelligent and outspoken folk. Their story (sotto voce, for speech there never has been overly free) was that the taxation burden was almost intolerable. Meanwhile it has been getting heavier and heavier. Now it is estimated that the mikado's mainland venture is costing his people an additional $1,000,000 daily.

A country like Japan obviously cannot continue that long. It hasn't the cash, resources or credit. It has a good initial equipment, but it cannot maintain it.

China has "fat." Wearing it off is a gradual process.

* * *

EXPENSIVE PENETRATION.

"Oh, yes," agreed Secretary Y. F. Lieu of the Chinese embassy, talking with me the other day, "the Japanese are penetrating up the Yangtze river, but they are doing it with infinite difficulty and at enormous expense. The Chinese close in behind them, as they penetrate, too. Their line of communications is a fearful anxiety to them.

"Besides, they are not effectively established in North China. They do not mention it, but they are crippled by a state of guerilla warfare there."

All of which costs money — which Tokio hasn't got.

Guerilla warfare, on the opposite hand, more or less pays for itself as it goes.

* * *

COMMITTING HARI-KARI?

I chatted recently with an American, for years a resident in Japan and long the Tokio government's publicity agent in Washington (I can't name him). "Nippon," he said, "is committing hari-kari (suicide)."

How is that proved?

Well, maybe it was noticed that news dispatches recorded a batch of Tokio arrests (running into hundreds) of revolutionaries against the mikado's government. It was much like one of Russia's "purges."

When Russia has a "purge" it generally is concluded that the soviet government is threatened by an uprising against itself. Ditto Japan.

A lot of Japan's arrests, too, were of very prominent men.

* * *

MILITARISTS OPPOSED?

In short, Japan's rank-and-file appears hostile to its militarists.

Its militarists are a cuckoo group, but, after all, its membership is limited.

Its officership is of the bloodthirsty samurai, but the common soldiery?—that consists of ordinary Japanese folk, who may rebel.

In the interest of world peace, however, the crazy samurai had better be suppressed by its home folk as speedily as possible. Otherwise we shall have another world war on our hands.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Saturday, Dec. 29, 1917.

Listen, World!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

A New Year's Gift to America . . . More Health and Free Health.

RESPONSE to the question recently asked Young America —"IF YOU WERE SANTA CLAUS, WHAT GIFT WOULD YOU BRING THIS NATION?"—has been amazing and brilliant. Here are more of these remarkable answers.

How does Young America feel about its country? Here's how!

"Youth is cold hearted." . . . "Youth, knowing nothing of suffering, is callous to pain."

How often you've heard these criticisms — perhaps made them yourself? And yet, in the thousands of replies which came in answer to our question, the one gift most often mentioned by these husky, healthy youngsters was—HEALTH!

Youth is NOT heartless! It sees and cringes in agonized pity before the spectacle of pain. The Christ-child's own tenderness lies in these letters we print today.

From 21-year-old Russel Dempsey Holmes, of New York City, comes this unusual and most blessed gift:

"A CITY OF THEIR OWN FOR TUBERCULOSIS VICTIMS, WHERE THEY CAN WORK AND PLAY, LIVE, LOVE AND HOPE, WITHOUT JEOPARDIZING OTHERS, OR THEIR OWN HEALTH.

"A place where those who were not entirely helpless could support their families and themselves, and not depend on charity. This city would have industrial plants and programs especially adapted to the needs of the tubercular, with rest periods and milk provided. There would be government-built homes with low rents.

"Give them pleasure and pride and proper work and a decent position socially, and the depression which is the most deadly of tuberculosis would soon be wiped out."

That's truly the "spirit of Christmas," son!

* * *

SCORES of pleas came for "SOCIALIZED MEDICINE" as a New Years gift for America. Today come various concrete suggestions, such as this one from Gilbert Mueller of Chicago, Ill., who'd give every city in the country "IRON LUNGS . . . ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATORS."

"I'd give these," says he, "in sufficient number to serve every American, however poor or remote. I would place these Iron Lungs in care of the community leaders, to be municipally cared for, as we now care for our fire-fighting apparatus . . . to be preserved and cherished.

"And my joy would be full when the various mayors, presidents and civic managers pledged themselves to continually add more respirators as needed—so that no child ever need suffer or perish for lack of this heaven-sent instrument in our battle against infantile paralysis!

* * *

THEN, from a young wife, this plea—PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH FOR ALL MOTHERS. Such would be the gift to this nation of Harriet Swayze, of Allentown, Pa., if she were Santa Claus.

"Modern science," says she, "has several methods for relieving the agony most women suffer, yet only a comparatively few benefit by their knowledge. How wonderful it would be if every mother could be placed in that lovely, relaxed, semi-conscious state, and awake—not exhausted, but fresh and buoyant—to find her baby born.

"If I had my way, every American mother would be placed in the hands of a competent, thoroughly trained and sympathetic doctor long before her baby was to come. And such doctors should be available everywhere, for even the poorest and most isolated."

And a million mothers will rise and call you blessed for that, my dear.

How The Months Got Their Names

By JEAN NEWTON

In the names of the months is reflected the glories of institutions that were, of history, mythology and the admeasurement of time before our calendar was in its present form.

January was named for Janus, the two-faced Roman god. Janus stood for the beginning of things, and it was thought fitting that one face should look back over the year just passed, while the other looked ahead for things bright and new.

February was named for the Feast of Februa, or Purification, a Roman holiday celebrated on the 15th of the month.

March is named for the fierce war god, Mars.

April, which heralds the spring and the awakening of the earth, derives its name from the Latin aperire, to open or soften.

May is dedicated to Maia, the mother of the winged god, Mercury.

June, the month of roses, commemorates the fair goddess Juno queen of all the beauties on Olympus.

August bears indelibly the family resemblance to Augustus famed in Roman history.

September is rooted in the Latin septem, seven; at the time it was christened, it was the seventh month of the year.

And, in like manner, October, November and December are rooted in the Latin octo, novem and decem—eight, nine and ten—for they were originally the eighth, ninth and tenth months of the year.

Keeping Step

—By LESLIE EICHEL—

Big Security Offerings Expected.

MANY OF THE firms mentioned in the senate civil liberties committee report as employing labor spies did not. The detective agencies in question supply night watchmen—and that is how those firms got on their accounts.

* * *

BOND ISSUES EXPECTED

Several juicy bond issues are expected in January. There is a top-heavy abundance of investment money waiting for security issues. First in the field will be Consolidated Edison of New York, $30,000,000 — with Appalachian Electric Power following with an expected $60,000,000.

Much of this will be "new money" for expansion rather than money obtained to retire indebtedness with higher interest rates.

DIESELS

High-powered Diesel locomotives for heavy through passenger (and even freight) service are being bought—when there is buying—as if some railroads intended to convert their motive power into this form of propulsion. If so, General Motors, with its new plant for Diesels in Chicago, stands to gain the most. So far, it has obtained the bulk of the orders. But rumor has it that Chrysler soon may make some announcements concerning a Diesel plant. If so, Ford cannot be far behind. And General Electric and American Locomotive also are in the field.

* * *

HITS ELECTRIFICATION?

Does the rise of the Diesel locomotive doom any further electrification of railroads? It is less expensive, does the same job.

The Pennsylvania railroad, then, would not extend its electrification beyond Harrisburg, Pa. The main line now is electrified from New York to Paoli, Pa., 20 miles west of Philadelphia. The section from Paoli to Harrisburg, 83 miles, will be completed in February. The aim has been to get the line clear through to Pittsburgh, 245 miles farther on, electrified eventually. The mountain section is between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh. Diesels, however, climb mountains with ease, so it seems.

The Pennsylvania has no Diesels other than for some local switching service, if for that. The Pennsylvania's electrified mileage also extends from the New York main line at Philadelphia on down to Washington. There are likewise Jersey branches that have electrified sections, and of course the Pennsylvania owns the highly electrified Long Island railroad.

STEEL FOR SHIPS

New shipbuilding plans engendered by federal subsidies under the new maritime law will bring a strong demand for steel plates.

Standard Oil alone is considering the construction of 20 tankers, in addition to others now building. The cost is estimated at $60,000,000—with the government putting up $16,000,000.

Tankers, which lead in American shipbuilding now, are considered war essentials as well as economically necessary at any time.

HOOVER LOSS

The wreck of the $8,000,000 Dollar Line President Hoover on a reef off Formosa hits marine insurance circles harder than any other loss in 1937.

The total insurance on the vessel is $5,000,000, of which $2,000,000 was carried by American companies.

The American fleet in the Pacific also suffers by the loss of the Hoover. It could easily have been converted into a troop auxiliary in case of necessity. The vessel was built only seven years ago.

Timely Editorial

Just Too Lazy.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, whose balmy latitude is not entirely free of snow and sleet, took up the refrain, and pointed out that recently in the residential sections of its city it was "almost impossible to walk with any safety except in the streets."

And if there is any city of size in those parts of this country where winter coats sidewalks with snow and ice, where a similar condition does not exist, we haven't heard of it.

And the worst part of it is that in most of these cities, as in Detroit, there are ordinances requiring sidewalks to be kept clean of ice or sanded or salted so as to make thm safe for pedestrians.

All that newspapers can do in way of exhortation seems impotent to arouse citizens to their duty in this connection or to move the city authorities to enforce the ordinances.—Detroit Free Press.

—By PRESTON GROVER—

War Declaration By Vote of People.

WASHINGTON—So much storm and strife has arisen against the Ludlow "vote us out of war" bill that it is surprising to many here that enough members of the house were found to petition it out of committee for a vote.

Alf M. Landon, the president, Secretary of State Hull and fists full of members of congress have denounced the proposal as unworkable and dangerous. Nevertheless the house is committed now to bringing it up for debate.

Representative Ludlow, an Indiana member, couched his plan in the form of a proposed amendment to the constitution which would take away from congress the right to declare war. If the amendment should go into effect, war could not be declared except upon direct vote of the people. An exception is that war could be declared by congress "in the event of an invasion of the United States or its territorial possessions and attack upon its citizens residing therein."

* * *

The Proposal.

THAT part of the proposed amendment was buttered by addition of a section paralleling the American Legion program for drafting business and industry as well as manpower in time of war. It states:

"Whenever war is declared the president shall immediately conscript and take over for use by the government all the public and private war properties, yards, factories and supplies, fixing the compensation for private properties temporarily employed for war purposes at a rate not in excess of four percentum, based on tax valuses assessed in the year preceding the war."

But the meat of the proposal is found in the first section, which (except in event of actual invasion) requires a popular vote on the question:

"Shall the United States declare war on ——?"

The blank, of course, would be filled out with the name of some nation against which we might develop a grudge, say England, Japan, or Nicaragua.

One senatorial critic of the proposal pointed out that the idea is based on two moot premises:

First, that the president, his cabinet, and congress are conniving to get the United States into war in spite of the will of the people, or that some malign group of "international bankers and munitions makers" has the president and congress under its thumb and is pushing the nation willy-nilly into war.

Second, that the people at large are calmer in time of international crisis than their informed public officials.

* * *

LUDLOW argues that under the pressure of propaganda "members of congress are likely to crack under the strain and vote for war when they would not want to do so."

One of the fancy modern possibilities that might develop if such a war referendum were attempted has already been demonstrated in Europe. There Italy has broadcast propaganda directed to Arabs and other Moslems now under British suzerainty, causing England no end of anxiety and trouble.

Undoubtedly the same situation could arise in the United States in event the people were asked to vote, say two to ten days from now, on a question of going to war. The air could be flooded by propaganda from the nation affected, as well as from the pressure groups which Mr. Ludlow said would like to incite the country to war as a means of creating big profits for international bankers and munitions makers."

How It Started

—By JEAN NEWTON

"Playing Fast And Loose"

"Playing fast and loose," an expression widely used in connection with most of life's relationships, comes to us from a gambling game that is still practiced on the "lambs" at fairs in the deep country.

The gambler holds a belt into which the other person is invited to place his stick and then fasten it to the table.

By skillful manipulation of the belt, the gambler can make fast or loosen the stick, as he pleases.

Formerly, the game was called "pricking the belt," a name which was superseded by "playing fast and loose," which, in a figurative sense, achieved general usage.

Count Your Blessings.

Count your blessings; that way lies
Sure content. If you are wise
You will never let defeat
Snare your heart, be its retreat.

Count your joys and let your tears
Vanish with the old dull years
That have known them; live to know
Happiness the hours bestow.

Count the smiles and live them, too,
This will make your dreams come true;
Nothing is so sure as this—
Count the joys if tears you'll miss.

DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

GOD'S GREAT POWER: Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow at thy presence, as when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!—Isaiah 64: 1, 2.

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

NOT many writing groups get along so swimmingly as the dramatic critics. Intimacy in their case does not inspire the axiomatic contempt. During the season they are thrown in close proximity many nights, not only in the theater but for palaver between acts.

They disagree often over verdicts in print, but the only notable explosion among them was when the feud between Alexander Woollcott and George Jean Nathan geysered into Nathan's philippic in the old Smart Set, entitled "The Seidlets Powder of Times Square."

The critics have many unwritten laws in their credo to which they rigidly adhere. For instance they, as a courtesy to the management, take their seats at least five minutes before curtain time. It's also a custom not to applaud, no matter their enthusiasm.

And never, never are they supposed to laugh. But Robert Benchley frequently cracks that one with a guffaw that shakes the rafters. The critics do not always wear evening clothes—save on auspicious occasions such as a Katharine Cornell or a Lunt and Fontanne opening.

Critic John Anderson usually attends a premiere with his wife, an accomplished art critic. Richard Watts squires his doting mother, festooned with a spray of orchids. Nathan varies his companions, but mostly she is Lillian Gish, looking extremely gishish and aloof. Brooks Atkinson, of the Times, and John Mason Brown, of the Post, also escort their wives. The morning paper critics dart out about 15 minutes before the last curtain to beat the deadline, but the afternoon critics stay until the end—if they can bear it.

George Jean Nathan is the most obviously contemptible of shoddy showmanship of the guild. If the first act doesn't show promise, his two aisle seats are vacant the rest of the play. Consequently he has walked out on some turkeys this season. The Rialto has hung up the shortest runs on record. Tallulah Bankhead's four-day headache, for instance. Two closed after the first night and any number did not last out their week. Nearly all legitimate offerings these days put up the closing notice with the opening, to take advantage of the Equity ruling regarding salaries for a week after suspension.

A mammoth New York establishment contemplates the purchase of an entire block adjoining, which will be razed and used exclusively for free parking for customers. It is the idea of a Pittsburgh department store and was highly successful.

Some of the editors are thinking of resorting to blasting to get Frank Sullivan, the humorist, out of Saratoga Springs. He went to his home town early this spring for a week or so rest and has remained on and on, finally closing his New York apartment. Incidentally, the records show that more than 60 per cent of the established writers living in New York 10 years ago have moved elsewhere.

I have been told that one of the sport writers on a tabloid was yanked before his chief the other day for starting off an article with "Irregardless." And even the meticulous Lucius Beebe spoke of something as "misfortunate." Brisbane on several occasions used prepositions instead of pronouns. One of my friendly but severe critics is a linotyper on—as one might expect—a Boston paper. He takes me to task when my English tatters around the edge.

Recently he put me in the corner with a dunce cap for saying: "He came (at) about 3 o'clock." Naturally it is one or the other. And he reddened my outstanding ears with the truthful charge that I often preceded my past participles with "too" instead of "too much." Viz: "He was too (much) exhausted to speak." So, feeling guiltily no account, I pirooted through a highbrow magazine article and found among other things: "The river on whose banks"—instead of the correct "on the banks of which." Also this: "Harvard's history." Instead of the "history of Harvard." In fact, there were so many derelictions, even to the untutored eye, that I felt better. After all, there are four stark grammatical lapses in Shakespeare's "As You Like It." and furthermore there is too much grammar in the world anyway.

JAPAN'S ARMY INFUSES CREED 'FIGHT AND DIE'

'We Are Human Bullets to Be Used,' Says Japanese Military Official.

By H. O. THOMPSON

TIENTSIN, (U.P.)—H. Masaki is a quiet, pleasant little chap with horn-rimmed spectacles, and weighs not more than 100 pounds. He started on a military career and poor health made him give it up. But he carried on the traditions of a military family when, single-handed, he captured a Chinese gunboat.

It was during the early days of the hostilities, before Masaki's father, Gen. Jinsaburo-Masaki, was acquitted in Tokyo of any connection with the February revolt of last year. Young Masaki, a junior official in the Japanese foreign office, went from Tientsin to the river mouth at Tangku and started a campaign by himself.

In some manner he had obtained a pistol. Traveling was dangerous then. He arrived at Tangku just as the Japanese were opening up on the mud forts there. Spying a small dory which had been abandoned by its owner and overcome by patriotic ardor, Masaki poled his way out to a small gunboat, clambered aboard and shouted:

"In the name of the Japanese empire I demand that you surrender!"

The crew, amazed at the sight of this civilian scrambling upon the deck and awed a bit by the pistol, grinned sheepishly and let Masaki run up the Rising Sun flag. They knew they'd be taken anyway and this was more fun than being blown up by shells.

Masaki is not very talkative and says the gunboat episode "wasn't so much." He is adored by Japanese newspapermen, who say that Masaki has performed other dangerous missions with the same modesty.

Capt. Tatsuo Nishihara was drinking lemonade in the bar at the Wagon Lits hotel in Peiping and we got to talking about the Japanese attitude toward war.

"There is a proverb," he said, "—'an arrow can pierce a stone.' It goes back to the story of the hunter in ancient times who saw a tiger and shot at it with bow and arrow. When he went to get the animal he found that he had shot at a big stone, and that it wasn't a tiger at all. And the arrow had pierced the stone.

"He went back and tried it again. But every time after that the arrow glanced off the stone. He knew that only faith had made it possible the first time and once he realized he was shooting at a stone and not at a tiger the arrow had no effect."

Nishihara, a young artillery officer who soon afterward went back to Japan to train anti-aircraft gunners, sipped his drink and went on:

"That is why we can overcome such odds against us. It is faith in our destiny. We are human bullets, I am a human bullet. My body is only a bullet and I am ready to have it used as such at any time. My body is not important except that some day it may be of use that way. It is for our emperor."

FAMED ST. OLAF COLLEGE CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERT HERE FEB. 13

The St. Olaf college choir, one of the nation's outstanding choral groups, will give a concert at the Mansfield Senior high school auditorium Sunday afternoon, Feb. 13, Marshall C. Moore, chairman of the sponsoring Optimist club committee, announced today.

Proceeds from the concert will be used by the Junior Optimist club for its activities at the Friendly House, Moore said.

The choir, directed by F. Melius Christiansen, has appeared in Mansfield twice, the last time six years ago. Its appearance here in February was scheduled as one of the few to be made this winter in the midwest. The group will stop here enroute from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

The choir was organized about 35 years ago at St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., and has toured the nation many times.

Committee heads named by the Optimist club to arrange for the program are Ernest Stauffer, ticket committee; William Enlow, publicity committee, and W. H. G. Kegg, entertainment committee.

Other committee members will be announced following a meeting of committee chairmen early next week, Moore said.

CITY'S PETS GET OWN CEMETERY

Caretaker Prepares Plot After Citizens Donate Funds.

ALAMOSA, Colo.—(AP)—Thanks to Frank Barrow, cemetery caretaker, Alamosa pets will have a burial place not far from where their masters eventually may rest.

He asked for donations of from $1 to $5 from animal lovers, and wtih the money prepared a plot near an Alamosa cemetery, constructed a fence about it and announced that henceforth pets would be buried there free of charge.

Already three dogs, two cats and a canary rest in the plot. Their graves are marked by small metal plaques.

HOLDS BUSINESS FOSTERS STRIKE OF U. S. CAPITAL

Jackson Says Recession Being Used as Screen to Liquidate New Deal Policies.

PHILADELPHIA—(U.P.)—Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, chief of the anti-trust division of the department of justice, suggested today that big business advocates of an "aristocratic anarchy" are fostering a general strike of capital in America to coerce political action.

Reiterating charges of trust manipulation, Jackson declared big business is seizing on a business recession to "liquidate the New Deal." He warned that "private regimentation" of finance, industry and commerce, if not checked, will lead inevitably to political socialism.

"Certain groups of big business have now seized upon a recession in our prosperity to "liquidate the New Deal" and to throw off all governmental interference with their incorporated initiative and their 'aristocratic anarchy,'" Jackson charged.

Quotes From Article.

He quoted an article by Sir Arthur Salter which commented on "accumulating distrust and resentment" against the Roosevelt administration. Salter's article suggested it is "not fanciful to suggest that there is something like a strike of capital against political action which it fears and dislikes."

"If this is correct," Jackson said, "the government faces a general strike—the first general strike in America — a strike against the government—a strike to coerce political action. This is a new manifestation of 'aristocratic anarchy' for students of political science to ponder."

It was Jackson's second denunciation of policies of "big business" within three days. In a Sunday night radio address, he warned that big business is "pricing itself out of the market" and blamed manipulations of trusts for the current business recession.

The new attack on policies of certain industrialists added weight to predictions that the New Deal is preparing to intensify its anti-monopoly fight after the first of the year in congress and the courts.

City Employes Eat Chicken At 'Farewell' Dinner

Mayor Earl A. McFarland was there—but didn't occupy the seat at the head of the table, and Service-Safety Director Philip Wolfe was there but he wasn't seated at the mayor's right.

In fact nearly 50 city hall employes with their wives, husbands, and sweethearts attended the official "family party" held at North Lake park last night. They sat where they wished, and dined on chicken and noodles, baked ham, potato salad and all the trimmings that go along with a covered-dish dinner.

The party was staged as a farewell dinner for those officials and employes who turn over their posts next week to the incoming Democratic administration.

John Hess, bookkeeper in the garbage department called it a "howling success" but not literally. He meant that everyone had a "good time" and observed the warning before hand that "swan songs" would not be allowed.

WOMEN DRIVERS GET $15 FINES

Two Convicted of Driving at Excessive Speed, Operator's Licenses Suspended.

Two women motorists, one from Shelby, convicted on charges of careless and reckless driving in municipal court today were fined and drew suspension of their drivers' licenses.

Miss Louise Ida Williams, 28, of Shelby was fined $15 and costs and her driving rights suspended for 30 days when found guilty of speeding at 57 miles an hour in a 25-mile-an-hour zone.

Mrs. Robert J. Arras, 25, of 166 McPherson street, was fined $15 and costs and her operator's permit suspended for 90 days when found guilty of speeding at 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile-an-hour zone.

Both drivers were arrested by Lieut. Paul Whipp and Patrolman John Gilbert last night. The officers testified that they first noticed Miss Williams when she passed their cruiser at a fast rate of speed on Springmill street. They said they trailed her car for several blocks and finally stopped her on Glessner avenue. Mrs. Arras was arrested on Springmill street 15 minutes later.

HEARS PROTEST ON B. & O. RAIL ABANDONMENT

Commission Gets Challenge From Newark, Sandusky Opposing Vacation.

The Ohio Public Utilities commission at a hearing today in Columbus considered the application of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for abandonment of a passenger train between Newark and Sandusky, which company officials contended is being operated at a loss of $3,000 per month.

The train, No. 47 northward to Sandusky through Mansfield, and No. 48 on the return trip to Newark, operates daily except Sunday and consists of three cars.

If the application is granted, it would leave the railroad without passenger service between Willard and Sandusky. There would, however, be one train each way a day between Willard and Newark through Mansfield.

Brotherhoods Join Cities.

The proposed abandonment was opposed by representatives of Newark and Sandusky industrial interests and the Railroad Conductors' and Engineers' brotherhoods.

Hearing on the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for authority to remove a local passenger train between Mansfield and Toledo was set for Feb. 1.

The train was discontinued Dec. 9 because of lack of patronage, company officials said. Formal authority for the removal of the train has not been given.

One of the first witnesses today was James Johnson of Newark, B. & O. accountant.

Train operation cost sheets for the route over which the abandonment is proposed were challenged by Attorney Alvin Weichel, counsel for the merchants' division of the Sandusky Chamber of commerce, who oppose the abandonment, as not being "actual."

Johnson admitted under Weichel's cross-examination that he knew nothing of the actual cost of the train's operations on the particular route other than the salaries paid to the crew itself. He said the costs had been determined through a cost operation "formula" submitted by the railroad's general offices.

Fights For Ford

WOMEN GASP IN HORROR AT FILM OF PANAY RAID

News Reel Pictures Show U. S. Gunboat Sinking, Flight of Survivors to Shore.

HOLLYWOOD—(U.P.)—News reel pictures of the attack on the U. S. gunboat Panay by Japanese fliers, showing American navy men fighting for their lives and falling wounded in battle, were shown to the public for the first time today in Los Angeles theaters.

The pictures provoked gasps of horror from the few women spectators when they were first shown last night to a group of 100 newspaper reporters and employes of Fox-Movietone company.

The films were taken by Eric Mayell, cameraman aboard the Panay, and were brought to the United States yesterday aboard the China Clipper.

A more complete news reel record of the Panay incident, taken by Norman Alley, cameraman for Universal Newsreel company, was en route east on a chartered United Airlines plane. The plane was grounded for the night at Cheyenne, Wyo., by bad weather and was to take off early today for Washington. Alley's films were to be shown to state department officials and possibly to President Roosevelt.

Shows Gunfire.

The Fox-Movietone reel did not show the Japanese planes but it showed American bluejackets firing machine guns at their attackers. Gunners were seen standing at their posts, oblivious to those who fell wounded beside them; a young naval officer staggered along the Panay deck giving orders on the loading of wounded into launches, the officer himself being so badly wounded that he had to lean against a gun for support.

There were scenes of men swimming from the Panay to shore after the losing fight; of the survivors hiding in reeds on the banks of the Yangtse river while the planes continued to bomb the vicinity; of a well-dressed man who abandoned his place of safety on the bank to crawl to the side of a dying man who wanted someone to hold his hand.

The camera followed the survivors as they walked into a Chinese village seeking aid, and as they arrived later in Shanghai.

A few noteworthy points of the news reel were the lack of confusion aboard the boat during the fight; the American flag flying prominently from one of the three Standard Oil company tankers that went down with the Panay; the fair weather at the time of the attack which suggested that the Japanese fliers must have been able to identify the boats as American.

The Panay's flag was not visible in the pictures. Scenes taken aboard the boat were of sections where the flag was not flying, and those taken from shore after the Panay was abandoned were too remote to show anything as small as a flag.

Civilians aboard the Panay could be seen calmly aiding the wounded seamen below decks, and one wounded man smiled toward the camera while he was being treated.

Navy launches are seen putting off with the wounded and other survivors after the order to abandon ship and several bombs are seen dropping in the water as the launches speed for shore. The Panay is seen settling into the water.

EXTENDS LINES

SHELBY—Work has been completed by the city street department on the extension of the city's water lines from East Main street to the East Boulevard extension, Guy McClane, street department superintendent, said today.

The department started work today on the 266-feet of sewer tile to be laid on Wentz avenue, McClane said.

Cash payments will carry a 10 per cent discount. Assessments not paid by Jan. 21 will be collected by the county treasurer in semi-annual installments over a 20-year period.

Interest on bonds to be issued by the conservancy board covering the uncollected assessments will be added to the tax of property holders who pay in installments, Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston, member of the conservancy court, said today.

He estimated that the interest rate would not be above three per cent.

Outstanding assessments in the entire district amount to $3,779,878, which does not include a considerable sum involved in court actions and which will not be levied until juries hear the appeals filed by property owners.

Judge Huston said no Richland county taxpayer had appealed from the conservancy district's assessment ruling.

Most of the county property in the conservancy area is in Monroe, Mifflin and Worthington townships.

The heaviest assessment in the county was levied against the Ohio Fuel Gas company, which is on the books for $3,764. Second highest is the Illinois Pipeline company, assessed $3,105. Other utilities required to pay assessments include the Farmers Telephone company, Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Western Union Telegraph company.

Model Glider Competition Open To Boys of City

Plans for a model glider contest to be held Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. were completed at a meeting of the Frank Lahm Cadets last night at the "Y".

The contest will be open to any Mansfield boy having his own model glider. Registrations will be taken at the "Y" between 6:30 and 7 p. m. Thursday. All gliders will be given a trial fly during the registration period. Gliders must be made out of balsa wood. There is no wing span limit.

Gliders will be judged for spot landings, and endurance. A balloon bursting contest will also be held. Prizes will be awarded to the three boys having the highest number of points in the three events. First and second prize will consist of the choice of material for building a scale model airplane, and third prize winner will be given choice of material for the building of a regular model plane.

E. C. Peat, advisor of the Frank Lahm Cadets, will act as judge.

BLOOD-STAINED CAR THEFT CLUE

Auto Used In Fremont Robbery Found Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Suburban Garfield Heights police checked hospitals and doctors' offices today in an effort to locate two suspected robbers who abandoned a blood-stained automobile after a flight from Fremont, O.

Fremont officers reported the men robbed a cafe of $250 and a quantity of merchandise but wrecked their automobile on U. S. Route 6 near the home of Melvin Vogt, whose car was stolen by the fugitives.

Police said the men apparently were badly cut in the Fremont accident.

it would be enforced in occupied territory. When asked whether Japanese claimed occupation of the international areas, he refrained from answering.

Japanese freight cargoes, meanwhile, were being landed in increasing amounts without payment of duties of customs examination.

This caused growing apprehension on the future of American and other firms competing with Japanese and on the future ability of China to pay debts of some $800,000,000 including external debt of $180,000,000 to United States and other countries. The debts are guaranteed by customs receipts.

It was announced that Chinese troops bitterly contested Japanese invasion into two of the nation's richest provinces—Shantung and Chekiang.

LOANS INCREASE BY 80 MILLIONS

Business Confidence Returns, Says Ohio Bankers' President.

"While the increase must be gratifying, there is still too much idle money which needs to go to work in order to help men to go to work," Wilson added.

He reported that banks will start 1938 with $841,000,000 in loans to individuals and business. Resources at the end of 1937 were $2,623,650,000, an increase of more than 184 millions over 1936.

MERCURY AT 23

Forecasters Look For Occasional Rain Or Snow Tomorrow.

Mansfield Got a taste of crisp winter weather today as the sun greeted early-risers for the first time in nearly a week and the mercury dropped to 23 degrees above zero.

The forecasters were pessimistic, however, and predicted cloudy weather tonight with occasional rain or snow Thursday. Today the temperature averaged 30.5 degrees, slightly above normal.

51 CONVICTIONS

ASHLAND—Convictions secured by A. Ross Siverling, prosecuting attorney here, total 51, according to a report made public by Ashland county commissioners. The annual report covers from Jan. 4 to the present date.

The report showed that of the 51 convictions, 22 were for felonies and 29 for misdemeanors. Only one case was carried through the appeals court to the supreme court.

Persons convicted were fined $1,180 and fines collected amounted to $585.

SEEK SPECIFIC AREA IN DRIVE ON DELINQUENCY

Advisory Council Members Ask Bates to Point Out Where Conditions Are Worst.

Admitting that they were "at a loss to know where to begin a campaign to solve the juvenile delinquency problem," members of a recreational committee of the Mansfield Advisory council last night asked Chief of Police Meade K. Bates to name a specific area in the city where juvenile problems are most troublesome.

Bates said he would confer with Judge C. J. Anderson of the county juvenile court and report to the committee "in a few days."

The committee's report was submitted to Bates, chairman of the council, at a meeting of the group in the municipal court room at the city building.

Because of the absence of several members of the council, discussion was confined to a recreational program for the city's under privileged children.

Oppose Aimless Campaign.

The request for Bates to name a starting point came from Roy Spetka, chairman of the recreational committee, who said his group had decided that it would be best to start work in the section most affected by delinquency rather than attempt a general and aimless campaign.

"We don't want to interfere in any way with the social agencies already operating in the city," Spetka said, "but we would like to enlist their co-operation so far as possible."

Spetka said he believed any drive to combat delinquency should center in the juvenile court and asked that Judge Anderson be consulted before any attempt at study of specific cases is made.

Adding that "it will take the right kind of leadership if the delinquency drive is to accomplish its aim," Spetka called for the help of public-spirited citizens who are interested in juveniles and are willing to give time to the campaign for their betterment.

"A big part of our problem would be solved if we could find some angel to furnish us with a vacant room and equipment for setting up a recreation center," Bates said.

"I favor turning our attention to a program of recreation for the children in certain areas who might eventually drift into delinquent channels," Spetka added.

RATES CUT

Galion's New Power Prices Go Into Effect.

GALION—Electric light statements mailed out to consumers Thursday of this week will be based upon the new power rates approved by the city council Oct. 19. The new rate went into effect on Nov. 20.

The new rates will represent a cut of approximately eight to 34 per cent, it has been estimated by W. G. Sanderlin, auditor at the light office. The average light consumer in Galion who uses 75 KWH ordinarily would pay $2.50, but the bill under the new rate will amount to $2.25. The average light and electric range user consumes 200 KWH per month, the cost will be $5.50 under the new rate as compared with $6.25 under the old rate.

The new rates also affect Galion store consumers and other customers using more power.

FIGHT DISEASE

Doctors Administer Serum to Combat Meningococcus.

FAIRPORT, O. —(U.P.)—Serum had been administered today to 60 persons here in an effort to prevent the spread of meningococcus which has already claimed four lives in Lake county.

County Health Commissioner C. B. Elliott ordered the serum injections following the death of Mrs. Julia Mirch, 76. Three of Mrs. Mirch's grandchildren, Elizabeth, Mary and John, were in City hospital at Cleveland suffering from the disease.

Colonel Alfred Ballin, retired army officer and foreman of the special panel stated that a report of the jury's findings regarding administrations and housing conditions and recommendations for changes would be presented when the jury concludes its investigation.

"We have made no criminal investigation here at the reformatory," Ballin said. "However, we have been instructed to report our findings and will submit our recommendations when we reconvene."

He indicated however, that the report would not be tendered until the attorney general's investigation had been made in other sections of the state.

Duffy has indicated that special grand jury will be called in Richland county late next month for the purpose of studying reformatory records as they may apply to irregularities in Ohio paroles.

RENEW FIRING

Government, Insurgent Guns Boom as Weather Clears.

MADRID — (AP) — While the Spanish government fought to crush the last remnants of insurgent resistance in Teruel, improved weather conditions in the Upper Aragon today permitted a resumption of military activity all along the battle front.

After three weeks of inaction, troops from Huesca southward to Teruel were busy strengthening their positions and repairing communications damaged by recent floods and snow storms.

Government troops closed in today for occupation of two dynamite-battered buildings from which the insurgent garrison of Teruel had blazed defiance for a week.

OHIO GETS $11,791,230

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The public works administration reported today that it had spent $11,791,230 in Ohio for the 1937 fiscal year, bringing the grand total to June 30 to $40,163,553.

BAM NETWORK IN FRUIT BOWL BEGUN BY U. S.

California Delta Project Under Construction at Three Key Points.

FRESNO, Cal. —(U.P.)— A small army of workmen is busy today bringing assurance of fresh and abundant water to the million residents of California's great Central Valley region east of the coast range of mountains.

Government employes and workmen are bringing into reality the $170,000,000 federal central valley project designed to develop the homes, lands and communities of the Sacramento and San Joaquin river valleys.

The project is designed to conserve and stabilize the flow of the Secramento and San Joaquin rivers. It promises an immediate abundance of low priced water for the drouth-stricken areas, an endless supply of hydro-electric power, flood control and navigation improvement.

Engineers, who have been experimenting and designing for three years on the vast government-planned and financed project, believe it will rescue 400,000 acres of fertile lands in the southern San Joaquin valley, now rapidly reverting to desert as water levels recede and wells fail.

Salt Water Encroaching.

They prophesy it will protect the rich delta district of the Sacramento valley, now threatened with destruction from the encroachment of salt water from San Francisco Bay during the summer months.

From the fertile valleys come a large share of the nation's supply of all varieties of fruits and vegetables—grapes, oranges, figs, lettuce, tomatoes and many other varieties of produce.

This vast project is under the administration of the federal reclamation bureau. Actual construction awaits only the ironing out of last details concerning water rights. This work is not expected to require more than a month.

Construction is under way at three key points.

Near the eastern tip of San Francisco bay, in the shadow of Mt. Diablo, steam shovels are digging the 50 mile Contra Costa canal which will carry fresh water from the San Joaquin river along the foot hills which skirt Mt. Diablo to communities of the southern bay region.

Radio Ceremony Unites Her With Spanish Consul.

BERKELEY, Calif.— (AP) —She embarked from New York as Florence Holden, an American citizen, and landed at Marseilles, France, as Mrs. Maurice Miller, a subject of Great Britain.

Such was the experience of a Berkeley woman in a recent marriage by proxy on the high seas. Her new husband is British vice consul at Barcelona, Spain. He could not get a leave of absence and she could enter Spain only as his wife—so the marriage took place via radio while she was on shipboard.

UP TO COUNTIES

Shenandoah Trail Extension Rests on Deeds, Jaster Says.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Extension of the so-called Shenandoah trail northward from southern Ohio through Licking, Knox, Morrow and Crawford counties, is dependent on ability of those counties to secure necessary right of way to deed to the state, State Highway Director John Jaster, jr., has informed a four-county official delegation seeking such action.

The counties' delegation asked that provision be made for adding the new unrecognized system of routes to the state highway system with a state designation.

The delegation was assured that the state would act finally on the request when the counties sowed the state that right of way on te routes was obtainable by them.

"Angel."

Marlene Dietrich's latest starring vehicle, "Angel," opens at the Madison theater Thursday, with Herbert Marshall and Melvyn Douglas in the principal supporting roles. In the film Miss Dietrich plays the wife of Marshall, who is a diplomat too busy with state affairs to have time for romance. She goes off on a secret trip to Paris, where she meets Douglas. Immediately they fall in love, and spend the one evening together. She rturns home again. In the meantime Douglas and Marshall become close friends and Douglas tells him about the mysterious lady in Paris. Marshall takes him home to meet his wife—the mysterious lady. Miss Dietrich returns to Paris and Douglas follows, but so does her husband, and all three meet in a cafe.

Race Track Film.

Thrills of a great horse race, inner machinations of race track crooks and intrigue of the betting ring, provide the background of "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," at the Ohio theater. Heading the cast are Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Ronald Sinclair, Sophie Tucker and C. Aubrey Smith. The story deals with the grandson of a British sportsman who carries on after his grandfather's death to race "The Pookah," and his friendship for a young jockey. The jockey is tricked into betraying his friend and "throwing" a race. How he repays the English boy makes an interesting climax.

Myrna Loy at Majestic.

Adventure and romance are blended together in "Whipsaw," the Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy picture playing at the Majestic theater. The plot concerns itself with smuggled jewels, which Miss Loy, as a member of the international ring of jewel thieves, is presumed to have in her possession. Tracy portrays a secret service man assigned to trap the gang and recover the loot. Others in the cast are Harvey Stephens, William Harrigan and Clay Clement. Edmund Lowe is cast as a super-sleuth in the second feature, "Murder on Diamond Row," the screen version of an Edgar Wallace mystery story. Lowe's job is to round up the "Squealer," a famous underworld character.

Post-Civil War Film.

120,000 Leave Jobs as General Strike Grips Paris

CALLS CABINET TO DEAL WITH GRAVE CRISIS

Chautemps Blames Strikers, Says Government Will Fight 'With Vigor.'

BULLETIN

PARIS — (AP)—Police evicted striking workers from six electric plants and two gas works in Paris today in conformity with Premier Camille Chautemps' assertion that the government would combat the dangerous French strike situation "with the greatest vigor."

PARIS — (AP) — An estimated 120,000 strikers paralyzed the French capital's transportation systems today and threatened to cut off supplies of water, gas and electricity in one of the gravest crises of the People's Front government

Premier Camille Chautemps, ordering an emergency session of his cabinet to deal with the general strike of municipal public service workers, condemned the mass walkout and warned that the government would combat it "with the greatest vigor."

The premier in a statement asserted the strike had been "deliberately provoked."

Gives Assurance.

After a preliminary meeting with his principal ministers, the radical-socialist premier declared the government would assure maintenance of essential services for the metropolis.

His statement followed close upon a vote of solid support of the public service strikers by the national congress of the Socialist party, itself a segment of the People's Front.

Chautemps refused to see a delegation of strikers at his office after he had conferred with Vice Premier Leon Blum, Defense Minister Edouard Daladier and Minister of Interior Marx Dormoy.

In that hasty ministerial parley, officials said, "members of the government drafted measures necessary to assure the maintenance of order and the functioning of public services."

The premier was described as determined not to negotiate with the workers until they returned to their jobs

The communist action raised one of the gravest threats to the government coalition since it came into power in June, 1936. The Radical-Socialists had been disavowing strikes while the Socialists had been urging less agitation by labor.

Guardsmen On Duty.

Squads of steel-hatted mobile guardsmen moved into the capital from the provinces They joined the blue-caped gendarmerie guarding the vital centers of the capital while the strike mushroomed.

Troops of "the military government of Paris," the army region surrounding the metropolis, were ordered to remain in readiness at their barracks

The overnight declarations of strikes of transportation, water, gas and electricity workers were backed in early morning by walkouts of street cleaners and garbagemen and some municipal office employes

Distribution of water, gas and electricity remained normal at noon, thanks to reserve supplies and substitute workers, but officials said the population might be requested to reduce consumption tonight if the strike persisted.

A student writer on the John Simpson Times, the school's monthly paper, went statistical for the current issue to show that the 40 teachers on the John Simpson staff attended school for a total of 702 years, an average of about 17 years each. The figures, the story indicates, are offered to bolster the pupil's appreciation of his teacher and possibly to console the boy who thinks it will be a long time until he gets his diploma.

For 10 years the criminal docket in municipal court has been in use—and for 10 years there hasn't been a person listed on the records whose last name began with 'X.' That is, there wasn't until yesterday, when oddly enough, the last entry on the last page of the big volume was the name of a defendant which started off with X. And he was fined on an intoxication charge.

PROPOSES TWO WARSHIPS, 16 SMALLER BOATS

President Says Requests Not For 'Preparedness,' Cites Foreign Arms Race.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Roosevelt, announcing the projected construction of two new battleships and 16 lesser craft, left a distinct impression today his "growing concern" over international conditions might prompt him to ask congress for even more naval armament.

"Facts are facts and the United States must recognize them," he said in a letter yetserday to Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the houes appropriations committee.

Citing the failure of his own efforts to arrest the world armament race, the president added:

"The fact is that in the world as a whole many nations are not only continuing but are enlarging their armament programs."

Not For 'Preparedness.'

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized at a press conference, however, that the prospective increase in this country's fleet was not a part of a "preparedness program." Some observers interpreted his action as reflecting a desire to hasten the achievement of maximum naval strength which under present policy would not be attained until 1942

The number and types of new vessels which may be recommended, the chief executive said, still are subjects of study.

The president's letter said specifically he was not referring to any one nation as threatening the peace of the United States It was noted, also, that it did not mention the recent sinking of the American gunboat Panay by Japanese war planes, which precipitated a critical diplomatic incident.

Unofficially it has been reported that the original budget estimates for 1939 will call for an increase of $50,000,000 over the current naval appropriation of $518,000,000.

The United States fleet now stands second in strength among the world's navies.

Great Britain 1,216,398, United States, $1,083,330; Japan, 745,594; France 469,346, Italy, 396,683; Germany, 147,632, and Russia, 250,000 including many obsolete ships.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

Independence Preserved.

THE RECENT ATTACK of Senator Byrd upon the proposal, contained in the president's departmental reorganization bill, to abolish the office of comptroller general, calls attention to the fact that the even more comprehensive proposal to place the various quasi-judicial boards and commissions created by congress under the executive has been abandoned.

At least, the understanding is that while this was the major change proposed in the original bill, it is not in the bill as it has come from the committee and stands no chance whatever of being restored. In other words, before the bill has ever come up on the floor for debate, these commissions have won the fight to preserve their independence. Whatever part of the reorganization plan is finally adopted, the status of these commissions will not be changed. By many the change was regarded as the chief idea behind the bill.

UNDER THE circumstances, it is, perhaps, worth while to enumerate these boards and tell something of their history. Actually, they constitute what is in effect a "fourth branch" of the government — wholly distinct from the executive, legislative and judicial branches, but exercising some of the functions of all three. Created by congress, their members are appointed by the president, subject to approval by the senate, but they are protected from executive domination by a supreme court decision which explicitly and unanimously denies the president the power of removal. This makes it possible for such commissions to function independently and act without fear of presidential disapproval. Such, said the court, was the unquestioned intent of congress.

AS originally presented, the president's bill would have nullified the decision of the court, ignored the intent of congress and placed these boards completely under White House authority. What this would have meant in the enlargement of the presidential power can best be grasped by listing these agencies. They are as follows: Interstate Commerce commission, created in 1887; Federal Reserve board, 1913; Federal Trade commission, 1914; Tariff commission, 1916; Shipping board, 1916; Federal Power commission, 1920, Federal Communications commission, 1927; Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, 1933; Securities and Exchange commission, 1934, National Mediation board, 1934; National Labor Relations board, 1935; National Bituminous Coal commission, 1937; Federal Alcohol commission, 1936.

THERE ARE 13 of them altogether and it will be noticed that six of the 13 have been created since 1933, when Mr. Roosevelt first became president. The president's committee, in justification of its plan to consolidate these commissions into the regular departments, called them "a headless fourth branch of the government, a haphazard deposit of irresponsible agencies and uncoordinated powers." Indorsed by the president, the scheme of giving him authority through the departments over the commissions was completely in line with the stand taken by him in the first year of his first term, when he summarily removed Mr. Humphrey, a Republican member of the Federal Trade commission.

HIS CONTENTION then was that as president he was entitled to have men on these commissions whose "minds marched with mine," which, of course, was equivalent to saying men who would do what the president told them. In the opinion of men who ought to know, Mr. Roosevelt resented the court's denial of this "right" in the Humphrey case very deeply. It seemed to him much more personal than either the adverse NRA decision, which came on the same day, or the AAA decision, which came later.

AT ANY RATE, his resentment was intense and the attack upon the commissions in the bill unquestionably was evidence of resentment and indication of a determination not to submit. He sincerely believes he is entitled to dominate these boards. The supreme court disagreed. Congress apparently agrees with the court and if one judges from the expressions on this issue the country agrees with congress. Even if next session he secures his "six selfless secretaries." his two new cabinet members and abolishes the office of comptroller general, the president will not like the reorganization bill if it reaffirms the court in denying him control of the independent commissions. That's what he wants most—or at any rate did.

HEARS UTILITY TAX PROTESTS

Senate Group Meets Again on House Bill to Approve $12,000,000 Program.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The senate taxation and relief committee reconvened today to hear opposition of utility interests to the 1 per cent utility excise tax, following approval by local government and labor officials of the $12,000,000 house relief program.

The house program, under consideration by the senate group, includes re-enactment of the 1 per cent utility tax, estimated to yield $2,500,000 annually.

Officials yesterday painted a dismal picture of 1938 relief needs.

Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, in a prepared statement, said that unless the house program was approved by the senate immediately, Cuyahoga county would have no money on which to base relief orders on Jan. 1.

He said that despite money already made available by the state for 1937 relief, his county would have a deficit of $700,000 on Jan. 1, adding that 15,000 new relief applications had been received in Cleveland during the past three months and that the city's present relief load is 135,000.

Cincinnati relief officials declared that 20,000 workers had lost their jobs there since Jan. 1 and that increased relief loads were anticipated. The mayor of Barberton said unemployment in his city had increased 75 per cent during the past two months.

MARQUIS, PLAYWRIGHT AND POET, DIES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Don Marquis, playwright, poet and former newspaper man, died at his home in suburban Forest Hills today after an illness of several years. He was 58.

Marquis' health had been failing rapidly and for some months he had been cared for by his sister and a male nurse. Only a short time ago he suffered a severe stroke of paralysis, and his doctor then said death might occur at any time.

Friends from the literary and theatrical worlds were organizing a benefit to aid him financially when death intervened.

Creator of the beloved "Old Soak," "Archy the Cochroach," "Mehitabel the Alley Cat" and a host of other characters whose antics stirred nation-wide laughter, Don Marquis belonged to the pioneer era of newspaper columnists made famous by Franklin P. Adams (F. P. A.), O. O. McIntyre, Walt Mason and Bert Leston Tayler of the Chicago Tribune's "Line-o'-Type or Two."

Baptized Robert Perry Marquis, he was born on July 29, 1878, at Walnut, Bureau county, Ill.

At 18 after various jobs, he began to contribute bits of gusty verse to the Walnut "Mail and Express" which lampooned political office holders and stirred the community to hearty laughter. It was a Democratic paper, and at the urgent request of the entire Republican community, the rollickingly disturbing young man named Marquis was tempted to leave town for a job in the census bureau at Washington.

Marquis jumped at it.

In Washington, a born newspaper man, he soon drifted into a job as a reporter for the Washington Times—thence to Atlanta, Ga New York soon called him and he joined the New York Sun at about the same time Irvin S Cobb started a similar rise to fame as a "Sun-man" He stayed with the Sun for nearly 11 years

His first play, and his greatest hit, was "The Old Soak"—a tear-soaked comedy based on characters he had made popular in his column in the Sun.

WINS ACQUITTAL

Councilman, Ex-Councilmen Freed of Bribe Charges.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va—(AP)—A jury acquitted a city councilman and two former councilmen of charges of bribery in connection with the city's garbage disposal contract.

Frank O'Day and former Councilmen Joseph Oliverio and Ray E. Titchenal said over and over again:

"We never did it We knew we'd be acquitted."

The three men were arrested at a council meeting after State Trooper C. E. Musgrave said they asked him for $9,000 for their influence in obtaining the contract for a fictitious Huntington firm he said he represented.

FATHER SEEKS TO SAVE SON

Testifies Accused Killer of Girl Had 'Wild Imagination.'

ELYRIA—(AP)—Nicholas Maneff of West Homestead, Pa., testified today his 23-year-old son Alexander, on trial here charged with murdering Louise Hornbeck, 19, Grafton, last October, had a "wild imagination" as a boy and was "slow developing."

The elder Maneff appeared after defense counsel in its opening statement declared the defendant was insane and had confessed to a crime he did not commit.

Prosecutor Howard R Butler in his opening statement said the defendant "without coaching" had taken him and officers directly to the scene where the girl was attacked and killed.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Hollywood is afraid of fantasy on the screen, says it won't "go over." And yet in Hollywood itself is fantasy. For here is where:

A famous couple who never admit they've been married can hear divorce rumors, like Chaplin and Paulette Goddard.

You can't live on the wrong side of the tracks, because there isn't any railroad. (But in Beverly Hills, where many stars live, the interurban tracks make it definitely possible to live on the wrong side.)

A young fellow works as laborer, professional wrestler, poolroom attendant—and finally, after hard work, gets a break in pictures. He's a lead in "College Swing" and his money worries are over And then on the set he gets a telegram His father's estate hadn't vanished in the depression after all (His name is John Payne, and his wife's name is Anne Shirley.)

* * *

A cowboy star can put over a song and place it in the "leading ten"—when the song ("You're the One Rose in My Heart") was written 10 years ago by Lani McIntyre, who then was working for another cowboy star, Hoot Gibson (Gene Autry used it.)

The same Autry, using songs in all his pictures, can go to see Smith Ballew, also of the westerns, vocalize "Echoes of the Trail" a song Autry wrote and sold years ago—and a song he might have used now if he hadn't sold it (But he got screen credit anyway.)

A group of young unknowns—with contracts—organizes a club Sole purpose: publicity. George Shelley Frances Gifford, Cynthia Westlake, Ida Vollman, Marie Marks Alan Bruce are the pioneers in this new frankness movement (Many old-timers are driven to marriage for the same end—and this club sets its members back only $1.68 for each sally into the public eye That's the limit each may spend in a night spot.)

* * *

Thousands of dollars are spent exploiting a film title, which is changed before the picture reaches the public.

Football pictures are made in summer, and circus pictures in winter—both for the reason that principals in each of these more or less professional activities are free from active duty and ready for picture fill-in jobs.

Nobody takes an "engagement" seriously until after the marriage—and not always then.

There are practically as many ice cream parlors as cocktail bars (if you count the drug stores), and a good job for an idle day is to count the photographers' studios in any given mile (Twenty-three in one mile is not the average, but gives an idea.)

And people hire press agents to shout about what they've done, even when they haven't done anything

But Hollywood is still "afraid" of fantasy on the screen.

* * *

When Robert Taylor and Maureen O'Sullivan returned from England and "A Yank At Oxford" both went into new homes completed during their absence. Taylor's is a ranch house in San Fernando Valley Clark Gable and Barbara Stanwyck — mostly Miss Stanwyck — supervised the construction as proxies for Taylor.

John Farrow went to England with Maureen, and left their home completed but unfurnished. Maureen ordered samples of everything, made selections, and gave orders before leaving. She came back to a decorative scheme she had planned but never saw before.

Rapture May Compensate For Faults

By VIRGINIA LEE

DADDY'S LITTLE GIRL is 18 and has a lover several years older. They work at the same place, so see each other all day long.

They are much alike, she says. Both are 'emotional, high strung and sensitive, apt to be very easily hurt by minor irritations. "Our nationalities and religions differ," but these have caused no disagreements at present.

Now although this man claims he loves this young girl, he never takes her home when they have been out together, claiming it is too far for him to go. "He never asks me where I would like to go, but suits himself. He breaks dates and is never on time, is always borrowing money — just never thinks of the end of the week." He also wants a husband's privileges, and tries to persuade her it is old-fashioned to wait until they are married.

His assets are intelligence, he is well read, has traveled a good deal, is very sociable and has a grand sense of humor; knows his work well and is rapidly becoming a success. He showers her with compliments when she wears something new or looks particularly well—but he also compliments other pretty girls, which Daddy's Little Girl finds rather hard to take, but supposes she will have to school herself not to mind.

She realizes that to get along with him without quarreling she must hold her tongue "when I don't want to hurt him, that I must not be personal with him in business hours, that I must refuse, in a subtle way, to lend him money," and that she must not allow him undue privileges. What do I think?

I think, my dear little girl, that you are so in love with this man that you probably will marry him in spite of anything I may say, and if you do, I hope the rapture you will feel at times will, in part at least, compensate you for the suffering you will undergo. For you certainly will suffer, and that clear little head of yours, which has analyzed him and yourself so well, knows it.

With all his charm, this man is thoroughly selfish. He loves himself more than he does you. That is very clear from his actions. You, if you wed him, will have to be the one to adapt yourself to him, giving up your own way always, for his. He will leave you alone and lonely, will put himself out for you, or realize what you are entitled to look for in the way of consideration and protection.

You will have your exceedingly happy times with him—when you and he are enjoying some pleasure of his choosing in which you are thoroughly companionable. And you will many times be very lonely and neglected.

Sweeten your fruit pies with syrup made with 2 cups of granulated sugar and ¼ cup of water; boiled 5 minutes and prepare before pies are made.

Favored Fashions

By MARIAN MARTIN

Need a frock that will go anywhere? Then make this smart, new style which is simple enough to wear to the most casual gathering and becoming enough to take you happily to any real daytime party. The new, elongated bodice and gored skirt are features of supreme style importance this season. And see how cleverly the darts have shaped the dress in at the waist to give you a slim, young silhouette. Neat slide fastener and simple revers supply the only details on the bodice. But if you prefer you may make the dress with a button front and with short sleeves, generously puffed at the shoulder as shown in the small view! Complete Marian Martin Diagrammed Sew Chart is included.

Pattern 9584 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards 39 inch fabric.

BE SURE TO STATE SIZE

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marion Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

Be ready for Mid-Winter activities! Send for the new Marian Martin Pattern book, and see its lively array of fashions—designs for every member of the family! Simple-to-Sew patterns interpret the latest afternoon frocks, party styles, matrons' flattery, and jaunty sports togs—to say nothing of gay outfits for growing-up daughters! Fabric, accessory, and gift tips, too! Price of book 15 cents. Price of pattern 15 cents.

Book and pattern together 25 cents.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

TWO WAYS TO FIGURE

"Which way shall I finesse?" With plenty of players the answer to that question is usually a pure guess. With card readers, there may be indications from two directions. One of them may consist of the count of suit lengths in the two defenders' hands. The other one may be the necessity of one player having to hold a certain card in order to have enough for some bid he made.

West opened the bidding on this deal with 1-Heart. North passed, East bid 2-Hearts, South doubled. West bid 4-Hearts and North 4-Spades.

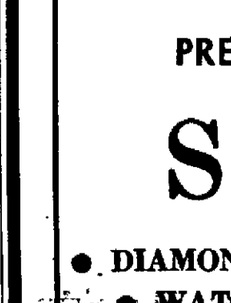
East opened the heart 4, which West won with the J. Figuring that he had no better lead and that North probably held one more heart, he laid down the heart Q, which was ruffed in the South hand. The spades A and K were cashed, leaving the outstanding trump a winner.

The declarer now played a club, which West won with the A and returned another club. After cashing his remaining clubs, the declarer was in a quandary as to just which way to take the diamond finesse, as his failure to guess it correctly would mean defeat. He guessed wrong, feeling that West was more likely to hold the diamond Q than East.

There was a greater chance that East held the diamond Q than West, as the original heart lead showed West with six hearts. He had also shown up with two spades and three clubs, leaving him with only two diamonds and only one if he held the spade. The finesse for the diamond should have been taken into his hand rather than East's, who probably needed the Q anyway for the single bid he had made.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

After winning the first trick with the diamond A, how should South proceed to make 5-Clubs?

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, December 30.

VERY LIVELY conditions are presaged for this day by both lunar and mutual planetary aspects. The mentality will be keyed up to much creative thinking, with the energies correspondingly stimulated to aid some novel, fresh or worthwhile plans. New contracts or business enterprises may gain essentially through publicity, advertising, correspondence or promotion, all leading to achievement and prosperity.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a very active and constructive year. The forces and faculties will be keyed to high ranges of achievement with consequent prosperity and progress.

A child born on this day may be versatile and enterprising in constructive plans either of a commercial or intellectual nature. It may have vision, initiative and fine organizing ability as well.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

Dicky's eyes, as he followed his worried speculation over his mother with the declaration that he had to have me in the city, were like those of a naive, trusting child who knows that his mother will attend to everything for him.

Every woman knows how everything maternal in me leaped to that look.

"Don't worry another second!" I said impulsively. "I'll manage about Mother. I have a scheme already that will work out beautifully I am sure. And, after all, it will only be a few days before Katherine arrives. And then everything will be 'safe as a church'."

"Yes, Katrina is akin to the Rock of Ages," he said, but his mind was plainly elsewhere. The next second he rose abruptly and pulled me to my feet facing him, with his eyes looking tenderly down at me.

"But you are my Rock of Ages," he said impassionately, "my refuge and my sanctuary. I wish I deserved you better."

He kissed me abruptly, a bit roughly, almost as if he were afraid of the caress, then released me quickly, and walked toward the door.

"You must get your beauty sleep, Gorgeous," he said, and I knew that the words were the idlest camouflage for the turmoil of secret anxiety which was palpably possessing him.

"I shall be asleep in 10 minutes," I told him, knowing that the words were false, for, though my physical fatigue was great, the food for thought which his words had given me was ample cause for wakefulness.

Solves One Problem.

The problem of Mother Graham's care was quickly settled. I would have Jim and Katie sleep in one of the rooms near that of my mother-in-law for the few days of my absence before Katherine's homecoming.

But my other problem, that of Dicky's odd wish to have me "at hand at a minute's notice" in New York, kept me awake for hours, while I conned the possible reasons for his insistence that I get into the city at the earliest possible opportunity.

When finally I dropped asleep from sheer exhaustion, I was no nearer a solution of the mystery than I had been before. And all through the next day, while Mary and Noel roamed through the orchards, woodlands and meadows of the farmstead, or lounged on the verandas, evidently savoring every drop of this their last day together for perhaps months to come, and while I packed the personal belongings which I meant to take to the city, and planned with Katie for the homecoming of Katherine and the children, I went over and over the question: Why, why did Dicky wish me near at hand? What emergency did he fear?

Edith Fairfax Involved?

But no answer came to me, other than the vague belief that in some way Edith Fairfax and office conditions at the magazine were responsible for whatever dilemma he was facing. Finally, with grim determination, I locked away the whole problem in the most remote of my brain cells, and threw myself into the task of preparing Mother Graham for my hurried departure.

I knew better than to hint that Dicky needed me. She would have catechized him at once, and he would feel justifiably that I had betrayed his confidence.

But, fortunately, I had at hand a more potent excuse, and it was without fear of the result that I went to her room in the late afternoon and knocked at her door. She called "come in," and when I had entered, I went to the point at once.

"Mother, I am afraid I shall have to go to New York with Mary day after tomorrow and that will leave you alone with Jim and Katie. I want to plan things with you."

My Neighbor Says:

To make fine cracker crumbs for breading, put crackers in the oven and let them get brown and crisp. Roll with a rolling pin so they will be fine and soft.

Dyeing and tinting garments in the washing machine gives a more even color effect than the old hand method. It also does a more dependable job of stirring.

The proper arrangement of kitchen equipment saves time. Kitchen stools, cleaning and laundry supplies should be kept in good order and well arranged in relation to the way the work has to be done.

Shopping with Wynnie Wynchel

With the New Year approaching, we all turn our thoughts to New Years resolutions . . . seriously or in a half-mocking spirit . . . however you look at the idea of turning over a new leaf . . . think this over . . . in all the shopping you've done in the past year, have you shopped wisely? . . . economically? This little column has tried to help save you steps and pennies, and will in the coming year try harder and harder. Here are a few hints I snooped this week.

* * *

Are the men of your house stay-at-homes? Do you wish they'd doll up in evening clothes once in a while and take you out to a dance or just for an evening of dressed-up fun? Then here's a little tip for you . . . Take that Christmas money you've been wondering about and trot him down to GOLDSMITH'S. The prices are reasonable and the styles faultlessly correct! Full Dress suits, equally smart in either black or midnight blue will cost you $30.00 or $35.00. This more formal wear is coming into its own again . . . but don't insist on tails if he's tall, because he'll look like a Greek god and you'll have your hands full keeping him for yourself when the other girls get a look at him. Tuxedos, still tops in popularity, may be had at GOLDSMITH'S in both single and double-breasted models and in black or midnight blue . . . the tariff will be from $27.50 to $35.00. Then there's the question of proper hatting . . . if you prefer the formal hat-Dobbs silk opera hat is sold at $15.00, and the Schoble Hi-hat, at $7.50. Soft hats (Hombergs or snap brims) are from $4.00 to $7.50. Then there are the accessories that "make" any outfit . . . dress vests ($3.50 to $5.00) . . . Dress shirts ($2.50 to $3.50) . . . Dress ties ($1.00) . . . White gloves ($3.50) . . . stud sets (1.50 to $350) . . . Dress canes ($3.00) . . . black silk hose (50c to $1.00 the pair) . . . and there milady is your solution to the problem husband who always alibis "but I haven't a Tux" when you want to go stepping all dressed up. And as for you, Mr. Husband—if you could really see the inside of a woman's heart, you'd know that nine out of ten women love to dress up now just as much as they did when they were little girls. C'mon, break down—it'll make the little woman happier than you know!

* * *

If you're a night prowler you know how grand it is to have the refrigerator always full of snacks. If you have a refrigerator you know how superior are the electric models. If you're "up" on your bargains you'll know that the OHIO PUBLIC SERVICE CO. are selling Westinghouse, G. E., and Frigidaires at substantial reductions. And in case you didn't know it—I advise you to get there in a hurry and choose yours because they are real bargains.

* * *

Exhausted from the holidays and gift shopping? Are your senses still 'rushing, rushing, rushing" from the pre-holiday hurry? Are you trying to do all the repair work with beauty preparations? Take it easy . . . you're on the wrong track! Not that beauty treatments won't help . . . they will! But it's your spirits that need lifting. Stop and think a minute! When you're in the dumps, what is it that will most quickly put snap in your step and lift to your chin? A new hat or bracelet. Sure! All right then, instead of wondering how you're going to get through this next party . . . instead of thinking "Gee how I hate to wear that old rag again" . . . hop down to REED'S and buy something new to make that old rag a thing of beauty and a joy to your heart. Get a bracelet, a costume ring, a necklace, a sequin jacket, some new sparkling thing, an evening bag perhaps will do the trick. Go on, try it—you'll look better . . . feel better . . . and that all-important personality will turn on with a new zip. REED'S have all the things you might want . . . stop in and look around!
